

At Least Seven Dead In Hotel Fire, Aberdeen, Wash.

Police Still Work On Records To Set Exact Death Toll

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP)—At least seven persons were killed and six injured in a hotel fire here Sunday and today police were still trying to determine the actual number of guests in the structure when the blaze broke out.

An undetermined number of persons, probably about 50, escaped uninjured. The small, residential-type hotel was destroyed. Cause of the fire is not known.

Officials identified five victims positively and two tentatively. Known dead are Mrs. Mary Kearns (74), Mrs. Eliza Beshers, Mrs. Mary Abshire, Hugh Rogers, a paralytic, and Paul Myhr, the hotel proprietor.

Two other bodies tentatively were identified as those of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Christofferson. Firemen said seven bodies were found in the ruins after the flames had been extinguished. They were so badly burned identification was difficult.

Hotel records were destroyed. The building had accommodations for 30 to 60 persons.

QUICKLY TRAPPED

The hotel was a two-story brick and wood structure. The first floor was occupied by shops and guest rooms all were on the second floor. The fire spread so quickly the hotel stairway was cut off and all guests were trapped on the second floor.

Most of those rescued were carried down ladders by firemen. One 80-year-old woman, Mrs. Mary Roberts, leaped into the arms of a man in the street. She escaped with minor burns and shock.

Eyewitnesses said people clung screaming at almost every window of the building. Cries of trapped persons, many of them old-age pensioners living in the hotel, could be heard above the roar of the flames and the crash of broken glass in first-floor shops and hotel windows.

TURNED BACK

Firemen said Mrs. Beshers gave her life for $48.77. With two companions, she was crawling across a hotel room to safety when she exclaimed, "Oh, my purse." She turned back. The others reached the street. Later, firemen found Mrs. Beshers' body near the door of her fire-blackened room. The purse was clutched under her arm. It contained $48 in currency and 77 cents in change.

Five Die In Crash Of Paris Express

NANCY, France (UP)—Five persons were reported killed and about 12 injured today when a Strasbourg to Paris express train was derailed near Nancy.

Railway officials said a broken rail apparently caused the accident. They said several cars left the track, including the diner, which was crowded with lunch-time passengers.

Weather Forecast

Few clouds today and Tuesday, clearing by noon; southwest winds 15 m.p.h., increasing to 25 m.p.h. Little change in temperature. Low tonight, 49; high Tuesday, 65.

Anti-Tito Upheaval Forecast

BERLIN (UP)—A special Moscow commission has arranged for an attempt to unseat the Tito government of Yugoslavia by force between Aug. 1 and 10, information reaching Berlin from eastern Europe said today.

The revolt would get under way with a series of minor border incidents provoked by Yugoslavians' Communist neighbors to tie down a large section of Tito's militia.

Then, in about four weeks, partisans of the Communist-backed Macedonian League would be ready to strike with the hoped-for support of anti-Titoists in the south Yugoslav state of Macedonia.

LURE PLANNED

The Soviets intend to hold out an independent Macedonian state as a lure to Yugoslav Macedonians.

Greek and Albanian guerrillas would support the Macedonians. The whole plan, informants said, was worked out by a Moscow commission which has been operating in the Communist countries and reportedly was responsible for the series of purges in Communist ranks in the "people's democracies."

Preparations were said to have been stepped up because of Yugoslav trade negotiations with the west.

Hedge-Hopping Plane Kills Two

WALLACEBURG, Ont. (CP)—Two men died in the flaming wreckage of their light airplane Saturday night when it went out of control at low altitude and plunged into a field near this Kent County town.

The dead: R. C. (Bill) Shepherd, well-known pilot of Windsor, Ont., and owner of the Tiger Cub machine; and his friend Albert Janssens, 31-year-old district farmer.

Eyewitnesses said the plane was hedge-hopping when it crashed.

Czech Reds Extend Church Opposition To Protestants

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist government was reported today to have extended its intensified anti-church campaign to the Protestant clergy.

Reliable church sources said a Presbyterian minister was sentenced recently to four years in prison following a secret trial in Moravia. At least two other Protestant ministers have been arrested and presumably are awaiting trial, the informants said.

Rev. Jaroslav Chodera of the Evangelical Church of Czech Brethren (Presbyterian) was said to have been sent to prison after being convicted of "illegal activities." The other arrested clergymen were identified only as Lutheran pastors at Zilina and nearby Puchov. No further details were available.

Roman Catholic bishops were warned Sunday by Education Minister Zdenek Nejedlik that continued opposition to the government will bring them "to the same end" as the victims of the Communist coup in February 1948.

Most opponents of the coup either fled the country or were arrested. Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk either fell or leaped to his death.

Four-Week Drought Ups Europe's Troubles

LONDON (UP)—Western Europe sweated today in its fourth week of heat and drought.

Falling water supplies threatened serious crop failures, curtailed industrial production and caused numerous fires.

In England, the temperature rose to 82 degrees and no relief was in sight. Water was so short that fire brigades and Royal Air Force tank trucks delivered more than 50,000 gallons a day to villages in the upper Thames Valley, where deep wells and springs had gone dry for the first time since 1911.

London householders were forbidden to water their gardens or wash their cars. British national milk production was down an estimated third and rationing had to be reintroduced.

In France, five persons drowned and one died of sunstroke. Thousands poured out of Paris and other big cities to cooler spots along France's river and seacoast.

Portuguese authorities reported that potato, corn and olive crops already had suffered serious damage. Thousands of Lisboners slept in the streets to escape 100-degree temperatures.

Truman Plans Wide Measures To Beat Depression

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman is expected to give Congress his formula for combating the recession this week when he sends his mid-year economic message to Capitol Hill.

The President studied the still-secret report of his Council of Economic Advisers during a holiday week-end cruise on the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay. This report together with his own recommendations will be sent to Congress, probably on Friday.

Though details of the message have been kept secret, there has been speculation that Mr. Truman may approve government action to provide a "shelf" of public works to be started in case of severe recession.

Such a program highlights a $15,000,000,000 anti-depression plan unveiled Sunday by three Democratic Senators—James E. Murray, Mont., J. Sparkman, Ala., and Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn.

Invites Friendship

MOSCOW (AP)—Alan G. Kirk, new United States ambassador to Moscow, today presented his credentials and told Soviet President Nikolai Shevernik he would work toward increasing friendship between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Italian Seamen's Strike Winds Up

ROME (AP)—The 17-day seamen's strike ended today. The walkout had tied up Italy's passenger carrying merchant marine at the height of the tourist season.

Shipowners and union officials signed an agreement this morning calling for a 200 per cent increase in pensions, a $5 monthly unemployment bonus, and a definite hiring schedule. Sailors returned to work immediately.

The strike started in Genoa June 17.

Australia's Premier Gives Grim Warning To Strikers

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia's coal strike today entered its second week, in the midst of one of the country's grimmest winters, with a grave warning from Prime Minister J. B. Chifley.

Chifley, who in daily newspaper advertisements accused Communist elements of instigating the strike, said in a broadcast Sunday night that "Australia's whole economic and social life is approaching complete disruption" because of the walkout.

Meanwhile, Idris Williams, president of the Miners' Federation, said Sunday night the miners will challenge the government's National Emergency Coal Strike Act.

B.C. Salmon Boat Fleet Tied Up As 'Pirating' Feared

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia salmon fishermen are still in port today and fishing companies are insisting they will not sanction boats they own or charter to sell to "pirate buyers."

The fishermen, who normally head north the first week in July, seek permission to sell their catches to the highest bidder. Rates of minimum prices for fish already have been settled.

Dimitrov Funeral Occasion Of Great Mourning By Reds

MOSCOW (CP)—The body of Prime Minister Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria was borne in solemn procession through the thronging streets of Moscow Sunday on its way to Sofia.

The 67-year-old veteran Communist leader died Saturday in a Moscow sanatorium from diabetes and liver trouble. He had come to Russia in April for treatment.

Dimitrov's death called forth the greatest outpourings of official Soviet tribute since the funeral of Andrei Zhdanov nearly a year ago. Zhdanov was considered one of the two or three most powerful figures in Russia.

Prime Minister Stalin and leaders of the Russian Government and Communist party stood by the bier Saturday night as part of an honor guard.

The Bulgarian cabinet ordered country-wide mourning. Thousands of black flags draped portraits of the lifelong revolutionary who had headed the Communist government since 1946. Black-bordered newspapers devoted nearly all their space to the obituary.

Dimitrov, a close friend of Stalin, had been called the most influential Communist outside Russia. Much of his life had been spent in exile. When the Soviet Army consolidated its occupation of Bulgaria in March, 1945, he returned after an absence of 22 years. He became Premier Nov. 23, 1946. Last April he was given a leave to undergo treatment in Russia.

The swarthy Dimitrov, with bushy eyebrows and a heavy black moustache, was exiled from Bulgaria for 22 years because of his early Communist activities. He remained an obscure figure until 1933, when the Hitler clique in Germany accused him of engineering the Reichstag fire conspiracy.

Two Killed In Crash

LAMAR, Colo. (AP)—Two men were killed today when their light plane crashed on a nearby ranch. The craft smashed nose first into the ground. Killed were Wilbur Pottorf, 25, and his uncle, Orville Pottorf, 28.

The act forbids other unions from using their funds to assist the miners. Chifley said "the miners' action has been wholly unreasonable and an unjustified repudiation of the arbitration system." There could be no more unfortunate time for the strike, he said, because Britain and the Commonwealth already are facing difficult problems as a result of a growing dollar deficit.

Bank manager M. Picard told police the daring daylight robbery was carried out at his bank when two men, each armed with a gun, stepped out of a car bearing United States license plates and entered the bank. They scooped up a stack of bills and fled.

The United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union seeks an arrangement where, even though working on company-owned or chartered boats, fishermen may sell to the highest bidder—even if the firm for which they work offers a lower price.

The operators contend that under the existing regulations they would pay a higher-than-minimum price if the market shifts upward.

A company spokesman said that for $25 anyone can obtain a fish buyer's license and become a "pirate buyer." A boat is the only other investment needed. The fishing companies, on the other hand, have huge capital investments in boats, charters and fishing camps.

e said the method of the "pirate buyers is to come alongside company boats and by offering the crew an extra couple of cents" take the catch aboard. He said "several hundred of these independent buyers operate in B.C. waters during the salmon season."

The season—which opens July 25—will be the first four-year cycle-test of the $2,000,000 fishways at Hell's Gate.

Trio Of Alleged Bandits Held After Bicyclist Killed

ST. JOACHIM DES PLAINES, Que. (CP)—Three men were held by provincial police today on charges of armed robbery and police said another major charge would be laid against one of them after the killing of a young bicyclist by a car apparently fleeing from the hold-up scene.

The men were captured late Sunday night after the $1,100 hold-up of the Banque Canadienne Nationale branch Saturday in St. Alexis de Montcalm near the village in the Laurentians 40 miles northeast of Montreal.

At Montreal, Deputy Police Chief Hilaire Beaugard said that either a charge of manslaughter or murder would be laid against Roland Verdon, 30, alleged driver of the car which hurled little Gaston Aubry of this small-village 50 feet through the air.

Verdon surrendered to police after the car he was driving had crashed into a ditch one mile from the accident scene. The boy was killed about an hour after the robbery while riding his bicycle near his home, 15 miles from the hold-up scene.

Verdon, his 27-year-old brother, Armand, and Raymond d'Amboise, 3, were taken to Montreal today on charges of armed robbery.

Officers said more than $700 was found in possession of the men when they were searched by police.

Bank manager M. Picard told police the daring daylight robbery was carried out at his bank when two men, each armed with a gun, stepped out of a car bearing United States license plates and entered the bank. They scooped up a stack of bills and fled.

Britain May Proclaim 'State Of Emergency'

LONDON (UP)—The government may follow up Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee's bitter denunciation of the Communist-led dock strike with a declaration of a state of emergency, informed sources said today.

Such a declaration would permit the government to send troops to untie 80 strike-bound ships and take other emergency measures to curb the wildcat strike's leaders.

Scotland Yard undercover agents were reported already to have ferreted out the names of dozens of Communist and Communist-paid agitators who helped organize the strike. The cabinet was expected also to take swift action on a demand by two members of parliament that the British military secret service investigate the Communist role in the strike.

The huge Transport and General Workers' Union, to which many of the dock strikers belong, may expel Communist leaders of the London strike and of others recently at Bristol and Liverpool. A few dockers went back to work in London today, but 8,000 still were out. The recent rash of strikes already has cost Britain 1,500 operating days or the equivalent of more than 30 round trips across the Atlantic.

Attlee Sunday told 12,000 Labor

Party members at a rally in Manchester that the Communist strike leaders were sabotaging the nation's recovery.

"It is our duty to expose these hypocrites and let the workers know their real character," he said. "They are merely instruments of an alien dictatorship."

New York Mob Beats Alleged Hit-Runner

NEW YORK (AP)—An irate mob of 200 in New York's East Side beat and kicked an alleged hit-and-run driver Sunday night after a wild automobile chase in which a woman was killed by a stray police bullet.

The crowd seized the driver, Joseph Sullivan, 27, beat him to the ground and kicked him for several minutes before three policemen could drag him to the safety of a station house. Sullivan was charged by police with fleeing after his car had struck Louis di Negro, 11, of a lower East Side corner and broken the boy's leg.

In the chase that followed, a police sergeant accidentally shot Mrs. Lorraine Donnelly, 29, of Elmont, N.Y., with a stray bullet. She died a short time later.

VIENNA (Reuter)—A United States Army private who entered a Russian-occupied hotel in Vienna and beat up seven Soviet officers, has been sentenced by a court-martial to six months in jail for misconduct, it was disclosed Sunday. Servicemen's Vote Goes 60 Per Cent To Liberals

OTTAWA (CP)—The servicemen's vote, 60 per cent Liberal, made no change in party standings in the June 27 federal election.

However, it came within two votes of producing a stalemate in a riding held by the Progressive Conservatives—Annapolis Kings in Nova Scotia.

The party standing remained: Liberals, 192; Progressive Conservatives, 42; C.C.F., 13; Social Credit, 10; others, 5; total, 262.

The results of an advance poll for regular servicemen, reservists at summer camps and veterans confined to hospital were released at the week-end.

Among other things the soldiers:

1. Gave the Liberals 13,797 of the 22,174 total, the Conservatives 5,316, the C.C.F. 2,294, Social Credit 389, and the rest to other parties including 32 ballots marked for the Communist Labor-Progressives.

2. Reduced the majority of George Nowlan, Progressive Conservative candidate in Annapolis Kings, from 68 to two over A. A. Elderkin, Liberal, and probably provoked a recount.

3. Cut into the majorities of a number of non-Liberals but failed to overthrow them.

In the Saskatchewan riding of Melfort, the servicemen chopped three off the lead of Percy Wright, C.C.F., and another veteran, but he held firm with a final lead of 39 over T. R. MacNutt, Liberal.

They increased the Regina City lead of Dr. E. A. McCusker, Liberal, over John Probe, C.C.F., another veteran, from 50 to 145.

Huge Increase In 1950 City Assessments

Living Costs In Canada At Record High

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's cost of living zoomed to an all-time record during the month of May, jumping a whole point to 160.5.

The Bureau of Statistics reported this afternoon that between May 2 and June 1 the cost-of-living index eclipsed the previous peak by nine-tenths of a point.

The previous high, based on 1935-39 equals 100, was 159.6—established last October and equaled in November, 1948, and January of this year.

FOOD DEARER

The advance was entirely attributed to a rise in the food index of 3.4 points to 202.9. This resulted from a seasonal rise in meats combined with a number of other increases, most important of which were fresh vegetables and oranges.

For just about every other department reckoned in the Dominion's cost-of-living gauge the indexes either declined or remained the same as in the previous month.

Home furnishings and services as well as fuel and light moved down the same amounts, 4 of a point to 167.7 and 128.7 respectively.

Service Vote Swells Mayhew Majority

Sydney Child, returning officer for Victoria, reported today that the defence service and veterans' elector vote in the Victoria constituency for the federal general election had given an overwhelming majority to Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, the Liberal candidate.

Service men voted earlier than the civilian electors and the ballots were forwarded to Ottawa for tabulation. The result of the service vote was received by Mr. Child during the week-end.

It gave 442 votes for Mr. Mayhew, 112 for Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative candidate, and 80 for William Caird, C.C.F. standard-bearer.

Threaten Czech Catholics With Traitors' Treatment

PRAGUE (UP)—Education Minister Zdenek Nejedly warned today that Roman Catholic clergymen who "serve foreign interests" would be treated as traitors by the Communist government.

Nejedly made the statement in an address at a festival at Sazava to which many priests in the Prague district had been invited.

"The priest who has been on neighborly terms with the people does not bless those who brought him to the present situation (of church-state crisis)," the minister said.

"The bishops say agreement between church and state is impossible. It is part of the worldwide attack on socialism and the Slav world. Those who are in the service of a foreign power will have as their reward that which suits those who work for foreign interests."

Reliable church sources said a Presbyterian minister was sentenced recently to four years in prison following a secret trial in Moravia. At least two other Protestant ministers have been arrested and presumably are awaiting trial, informants said.

PRESBYTERIAN SENTENCED

Rev. Jaro Chodera of the Evangelical Church of Czech Brethren (Presbyterian) was said to have been sent to prison after being convicted of "illegal activities."

The other arrested clergymen were identified only as Lutheran pastors at Zilina and nearby Puchov. No further details were available.

At Least 434 Die As U.S. Celebrates

CHICAGO (AP)—Death

overtook at least 434 Independence Day celebrants.

Of the victims, 207 died on the country's jammed highways, 140 were drowned and 87 were killed in miscellaneous accidents during the three-day July 4 holiday.

The traffic toll climbed steadily toward the 200 predicted by the National Safety Council. It mounted even before millions of automobiles clogged the roads in their homeward trek.

The complete death toll threatened to exceed last year's 500 for the three-day week-end.

Texas, with 36 deaths, led all states in the tabulation. Michigan had 21 deaths by drowning.

NEW YORK (UP)—The United Nations World, a private unofficial publication, said today that Andrei Vishinsky's performance at the Paris Foreign Ministers' conference had "shattered his prestige" with the Soviet Politburo.

The magazine, which last month created considerable stir with a story that the Politburo had approved a "Gromyko plan" for a softer policy toward the West, said its information about Vishinsky had come from "the most authoritative diplomatic sources."

The July issue, just out, also carries forward the story of how Andrei Gromyko, Russia's first deputy Foreign Minister, is supposed to have "sold" a switch in policy to the Soviet's ruling group.

For the first time, the magazine indicates "some of the leading American businessmen allegedly convinced Gromyko during his stay as chief U.N. delegate" that the U.S. did not want war and that Russia could get U.S. economic help "once the political atmosphere cleared."

It says, without specifying the date, that the New York Chamber of Commerce invited Gromyko to "explain Soviet policies to a select gathering of American businessmen." It implies, but does not say explicitly, that Gromyko accepted.

been optimistic before the meeting that the West would make large concessions to match Soviet concessions on the Austrian treaty. He supposedly based his prediction on growing economic difficulties in Britain, the drop in the New York stock market and rising German unemployment.

When this optimism was "thwarted," the article says, Vishinsky "began to bombard Moscow for new instructions," but "found the phone to (Premier Joseph) Stalin's inner sanctum strangely dead."

2. "On June 4, at a small and private dinner where Secretary of State Acheson was present, Vishinsky's customary aplomb was observed to be conspicuously displaced by uncertainty and anxiety," the article says. "He conveyed the distinct impression that he was dissatisfied with his own performance."

The article says two incidents confirm the claim of "authoritative diplomatic sources" that Vishinsky's prestige at home "descended from the zenith to the nadir" in the course of the Paris conference.

Tax Bills For 1949 Up 16 Per Cent On Residential Property

Today is a real "blue Monday" for city ratepayers with the announcement from City Hall that 1949 tax bills have started going into the mails and that "a tremendous increase" in assessments can be expected for next year.

A. G. Joyce, acting assessor, said tax bills for this year show an average increase of about 16 per cent in taxes on residential property. For business property the jump is something like 25 per cent.

The increase in taxes on homes is due to the seven-and-one-half-mill increase set by City Council earlier in the year on the 4½-mill tax rate of last year.

The more substantial increase in taxes on business properties is due to the increased mill rate together with higher assessments, Mr. Joyce said.

It was at this stage he reported: "There will be another considerable increase in next year's assessment—I might say a tremendous increase."

The assessment roll for 1950 closes on Aug. 15 and details of the increase will not be announced until after that date.

There are approximately 15,000 tax bills for this year to be mailed. It will take about two weeks before all of them have gone out.

OCT. 4 DEADLINE
Mailing of the bills is several weeks ahead of last year because of a change in procedure in the assessor's department as well as the addition of new office machinery for addressing bills, Mr. Joyce said.

Deadline for payment of taxes this year is Oct. 4.

Ratepayers can save money by paying their bills early. The rule is that payments made on 1949 bills anytime between Jan. 3 and Sept. 1 will be credited with interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum from the date of payment.

Examples of higher taxes imposed this year over last were given by Mr. Joyce.

In the case of a downtown office building taxes last year were $8,014.74. This year the taxes on the same property are $9,893.46.

On different residential properties the story goes like this: Taxes last year on a Pandora Avenue house were $70.63, while this year they are $81.42; taxes on a Chandler Avenue house last year were $87.51 and this year they are $102.08; taxes last year on a Thurlow Street home were $190.57, while this year they are $223.99; taxes last year on a Joan Crescent home were $261.97 and this year they are $306.32.

British Dockers Deaf To Warning By Attlee

LONDON (UP)—Dock strikers voted today to stay out despite Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee's warning that their leaders were Communists bent on sabotaging Britain's recovery. (See story "Attlee Says" Page 7.)

Two thousand of the 8,000 dockers whose strike-lockout dispute has paralyzed the port of London voted unanimously to continue their support of striking Canadian seamen by refusing to work Canadian ships.

Employers refuse to let the men work other ships unless they also load and unload Canadian vessels.

Three Labor members of Parliament attended a stevedores' mass meeting and told the strikers they were dupes in a Communist plot to wreck the country's economy.

Laborites R. J. Mellish, Bill Guy and Harry Nicholls pleaded with the dockers to go back to work "for the sake of our country." The 900 strikers attending shouted insults and refused to go back.

Informed sources said the government was considering declaring a state of emergency.

Such a declaration would permit the government to send troops to unload the 80 strike-bound ships and take other emergency measures to curb the wildcat strikes leaders.

Scotland Yard undercover agents were reported already to have ferreted out the names of dozens of Communist and Communist-paid agitators who helped organize the strike.

Asbestos Miners Not Yet Working

ASBESTOS, Que. (CP)—An official of the Quebec labor conciliation service, N. Berube, arrived here today to discuss with union and company executives the return-to-work of striking asbestos miners, but none of the strikers has gone back yet.

Nearly 2,000 miners decided last week to end their strike against the Canadian Johns-Manville Company after being idle since Feb. 13.

The miners, who struck for a wage increase of 15 cents to bring their basic pay to $1 an hour, decided to return with a 10-cent increase and negotiate the remaining five cents.

A company spokesman said it will be two or three days before the company will have re-engaged all the men necessary to fill production requirements.

'One Woman's Day' Resumes Tomorrow

"One Woman's Day"—the feature which has appeared regularly in the Victoria Daily Times since Oct. 5, 1943—will be resumed on this page in tomorrow's issue. Nancy Hodges has been taking a two weeks' respite.

Wife Of Suspect Informs Police Of Edmonton Slaying

EDMONTON (CP) — Police today held two men as they probed the bizarre slaying of William Wallace McKay, 59-year-old warehouseman, who first was buried alive in a potato patch and then killed with an axe as he struggled in his shallow grave.

Police said the slaying stemmed from a beer-drinking party in the converted railway-boxcar home of Michael Joseph Hayes, now under remand for a week on a charge of murder. Al (Buster) Robbins, 40, a railway worker, is held as a material witness.

Hayes' pretty 23-year-old wife is in protective custody pending an inquest later this week.

While the motive for the slaying was obscure, police said these were the events which led to the death:

McKay went to a party at the Hayes' home last Wednesday night. Other participants were Hayes, his wife and Robbins. Beer was drunk and then someone—police said it was Hayes—slugged McKay over the head with a pipe.

McKay crumpled to the kitchen floor and was dragged down the back stairs and through the yard to a potato patch. A shallow hole was dug and McKay was dumped in, then covered with loose earth.

SAY AXE USED
But McKay apparently wasn't dead. As he struggled beneath the shallow surface, police said, Hayes grabbed an axe and plunged it into the blood-tinted earth. The struggles ceased. The pipe and the axe were left in the garden.

Next day, Mrs. Hayes was confined to the house by her husband as he directed two men to dig a deep hole in his front lawn. He wanted it, he told them, to use as a cooling place for milk and vegetables during hot weather.

About mid-day, Mrs. Hayes urged her husband to go into town for a shave. While he was away, she slipped out and telephoned the police. Hayes was arrested as he returned home. He was charged with murder and remanded for a week.

Robbins was arrested Friday at Moon Lake, about 50 miles southeast of here, and arraigned as a material witness.

82 Week-end Violent Deaths Across Dominion

By Canadian Press
Violent deaths befell 82 Canadians during the long Dominion Day holiday week-end.

A Canadian Press compilation of fatalities reported between midnight Thursday and early today showed 46 drownings, 21 deaths in highway crashes, two in a plane smash and 13 from a variety of causes.

Ontario reported 38 accidental deaths, Quebec 31, Manitoba four, the Maritimes four, Alberta three and British Columbia two. An Ontario plane crash in the London area brought sudden death to Ross C. (Bill) Shepherd, 44, veteran Canadian flier, and to Albert Janssens, 32-year-old farmer, whom Shepherd had taken up for a flight.

Another double fatality in Ontario claimed the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cox, drowned in the Speed River while boating near Guelph.

Also in Ontario, a Toronto couple setting out on a week-end drive were killed just east of Toronto. The light automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lake, aged 41 and 60, respectively, were traveling went out of control and crashed head-on into a heavy car. Louis Henri Page, 16, was caught in a whirlpool Sunday at Riviers-an-Moulin, Que., and called for help. Bernard Tremblay, 20, went to his rescue. Both were swept down in the river.

Under somewhat similar circumstances, another rescue attempt ended in two deaths. At Sherbrooke, Que., Arthur Poirier, 58, lost his life by drowning while trying to assist Henri Turcotte, 14, a non-swimmer.

In Ontario and Quebec, particularly, many of the drownings were attributed directly to a heat wave which in some areas pushed the temperature over the 90-degree mark. Both swimmers and non-swimmers sought cooling relief in the water and some got into difficulties.

PLUCKY KID—Dickie Taylor, 14, clambered down the same precipitous 200-foot slope from which he was rescued by police a few minutes earlier to bring his collie "Laddie" to safety. The dog plunged into the canyon near Vancouver following his master, who was climbing down to retrieve a fallen coat. (CP Photo)

Use Of British War Equipment In Canada Discussed

MANCHESTER, Eng. (Reuter) — The Manchester Guardian says today that unless a way can be found for Britain, the United States and Canada to walk in step, "Canadians will have every excuse for turning south rather than east for standard armaments."

In an editorial, the Liberal newspaper discusses a series of articles which appeared in the Winnipeg Free Press on whether the Canadian armed forces ought to be equipped with British or United States type equipment.

The series brings to light "with considerable shrewdness a dilemma which this country no less than Canada will have to resolve," the Guardian says.

The paper adds: "Most senior British officers grown up with our admirable war department equipment would bitterly oppose any proposal towards a standardization of arms common to all signatories of the Atlantic Pact if this might mean that at least nine items out of 10 would have to follow an American rather than a British model."

"Against this, unless we are careful, we may shortly find that we alone out of the Western Union countries are cut off from wartime replacements and ammunition from the United States. That could be the price of clinging to our own type of weapons and our pride.

"In our present plight neither Britain nor Canada can make the dramatic change of policy which would involve an intolerable expense. In the case of most new weapons and types of equipment, however, and as many old ones as possible, it is essential that Britain, the United States and Canada should walk in step."

Raspberry Jam is Wonderful made the Easy 'Sure-Results' Way... with CERTO

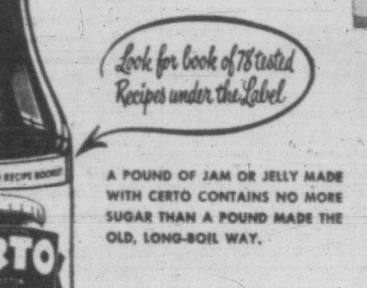

2. Boil hard one minute only. (The boil is so short it cannot dull the natural colour or spoil the lovely fresh-fruit taste. They stay right in your jam.) Remove from heat and stir in half-bottle of Certo. Stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Then ladle into glasses and paraffin quickly.

3. You get 10 glasses instead of 6. Because you don't have to "boil down" your jam to make it set, practically no juice can waste away in steam. So you get about 10 glasses instead of the 6 you'd expect from long-boil recipes (Certo helps ALL fruits to jell perfectly with an average yield of 50% more jam or jelly).

1. You'll be amazed how QUICK it is . . . how EASY. First you crush 2 quarts fully ripe berries (Yes! RIPE fruit—not under-ripe as in old-fashioned recipes). Measure 4 cups prepared fruit and 6½ cups sugar into large saucepan or kettle. Mix well, bring to full rolling boil over high heat. Stir constantly before and while boiling.

Certo is nothing but fruit pectin—the natural substance in fruit which makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell"—extracted and concentrated for easier, quicker, better jam and jelly making. The name "Certo" is a trade-mark.

4. No guesswork—sure results. With Certo Fruit Pectin you get 78 kitchen-tested recipes—a different one for each fruit. While the season lasts why not make several kinds of jam and jelly for those long winter months? But be sure to follow the Certo recipes exactly . . . don't change a thing . . . and your jams and jellies will always turn out right.

A POUND OF JAM OR JELLY MADE WITH CERTO CONTAINS NO MORE SUGAR THAN A POUND MADE THE OLD, LONG-BOIL WAY.

Servicemen's Vote Goes 60 Per Cent To Liberals

OTTAWA (CP)—The servicemen's vote, 60 per cent Liberal, made no change in party standings in the June 27 federal election.

However, it came within two votes of producing a stalemate in a riding held by the Progressive Conservatives—Annapolis Kings in Nova Scotia.

The party standing remained: Liberals, 192; Progressive Conservatives, 42; C.C.F., 13; Social Credit, 10; others, 5; total, 262.

The results of an advance poll for regular servicemen reservists at summer camps and veterans confined to hospital were released at the week-end.

Among other things the soldiers:

1. Gave the Liberals 13,797 of the 22,174 total, the Conservatives 5,316, the C.C.F., 2,294, Social Credit 369, and the rest to other parties including 32 ballots marked for the Communist Labor-Progressives.
2. Reduced the majority of George Nowlan, Progressive Conservative candidate in Annapolis-Kings, from 68 to two over A. A. Elderkin, Liberal, and probably provoked a recount.
3. Cut into the majorities of a number of non-Liberals but failed to overthrow them.

In the Saskatchewan riding of Melfort, the servicemen chopped three off the lead of Percy Wright, C.C.F., and another veteran, but he held firm with a final lead of 39 over T. R. MacNutt, Liberal.

They increased the Regina City lead of Dr. E. A. McCusker, Liberal, over John Probe, C.C.F., another veteran, from 50 to 145.

Spittal, Willoughby Take Major Honors At Rifle Meeting

Major A. M. Taylor Spittal, Canadian Scottish Regiment, Saturday won the Lieutenant-Governor's match at the 65th annual prize meeting of the B.C. Rifle Association at Heals Range, scoring a 73 out of a possible 75 on the 900-yard range.

Major Spittal finished with a total of 170 in capturing the medal, but in a five-shot playoff for the Grand Aggregate, he lost out to Major L. C. Willoughby, Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, Vancouver, defending aggregate champion, 22 to 21 out of a possible 25.

Both aggregate finalists finished with a total of 653. Major Spittal compiling his total with a 50, 47 and 73 in the second stage of the Lieutenant-Governor's match and an all-comers aggregate of 493.

Major Willoughby, who scored 500 in the all-comers aggregate, closed out Saturday's firing with 48, 48 and 67 at the 300, 600 and 900-yard ranges, respectively.

J. Gibault of the Fifth Regiment wound up in third place in the aggregate with 47, 47 and 63 today. His all-comers total was 500. Major T. W. Hall, Westminster Regiment, took fourth place with a 655 total, two behind Gibault.

In the Governor's match Major T. W. Hall, Westminster Regiment, finished runner-up with 165. S. L. B. W. Beaumont, Canadian Scottish, was third with 163. Major Willoughby also posted 163 to finish fourth while Sgt. G. E. Knight, Canadian Scottish and Sgt. L. McWatters, Headquarters (B.C.) Area 8, each had 161 to take fifth and sixth positions, respectively.

Mrs. J. S. Hethery, 5th Regiment, finished in eighth position with 159.

New York Mob Beats Alleged Hit-Runner

NEW YORK (AP)—An irate mob of 200 in New York's East Side beat and kicked an alleged hit-and-run driver Sunday night after a wild automobile chase in which a woman was killed by a stray police bullet.

The crowd seized the driver, Joseph Sullivan, 27, beat him to the ground and kicked him for several minutes before three policemen could drag him to the safety of a station house.

Sullivan was charged by police with fleeing after his car had struck Louis di Negro, 11, at a lower East Side corner and broken the boy's leg.

In the chase that followed, a police sergeant accidentally shot Mrs. Lorraine Donnelly, 29, of Elmont, N.Y., with a stray bullet. She died a short time later.

Moscow May Attempt To Unseat Tito Government

BERLIN (UP)—A special Moscow commission has arranged for an attempt to unseat the Tito government of Yugoslavia by force, between Aug. 1 and 10, information reaching Berlin from eastern Europe said today.

The revolt would get under way with a series of minor border incidents provoked by Yugoslav's Cominform neighbors to tie down a large section of Tito's militia.

Then, in about four weeks, partisans of the Cominform-backed Macedonian League would be ready to strike with the hoped-for support of anti-Titoists in the south Yugoslav state of Macedonia.

LURE PLANNED

The Soviets intend to hold out an independent Macedonian state as a lure to Yugoslav Macedonians.

Greek and Albanian guerrillas would support the Macedonians. The whole plan, informants said, was worked out by a Moscow commission which has been operating in the Cominform countries and reportedly was responsible for the series of purges in Communist ranks in the "people's democracies."

Preparations were said to have been stepped up because of Yugoslav trade negotiations with the west.

Playground Season Opens Here

With Gordon Hartley, playground director for Greater Victoria, at the sidelines, children at Central Park this morning show some of the activities they will enjoy for the next eight weeks.

At Willows playground, all children gather round for an opening game this morning. Mrs. F. E. Goodspeed, games instructor; Mrs. L. J. Clark, supervisor, and her assistant, Miss Thirrell Lipsey, are in the centre, left to right.

Summer was officially here this morning when thousands of youngsters began converging on 10 Greater Victoria parks on the opening day of the eight-week supervised playground season.

Children from three to nearly 16 tried out the merry-go-rounds, clambered over the jungle gym and generally gave the equipment the once-over at Central Park playground where Gordon Hartley, director of playgrounds was on hand for the opening day. "We expect about 150 this morning and probably about 300 this afternoon," said Mr. Hartley. "However, on really warm days we are mobbed here. The population of Victoria has grown so much and it is reflected in the number of children making use of the playground facilities."

Jack Hayes is in charge at Central, assisted by Pearl Scott, Councillor F. A. Robinson of

B.C. Family Bonuses To Mothers Total $70,000,000

Many mothers may be surprised to realize that it is only four years this month since the first family allowance cheques were mailed.

W. R. Bone, regional director of family allowances, announced today that in those four years mothers in British Columbia have received nearly $70,000,000 in family allowances. The average allowance per family in June of this year was $11.37 and the average allowance per child was $5.98 with 149,253 cheques being mailed on behalf of 284,249 children.

The total payments of family allowances throughout Canada during the last four years comes to more than $1,000,000,000. By May 31, 1949, payments had amounted to $1,002,682,746, and the June cheques will add approximately another $25,000,000 to that total.

As the years have gone by, the regulations have been altered to meet changing conditions. When the first cheques were paid, the income tax regulations provided for repayments to the government of a portion of family allowances in proportion to income for those people earning more than $1,200.

Since then, the income tax regulations have been changed, and now every parent may claim an exemption of $150 for each dependent child who is entitled to receive family allowances. Exemptions for children not eligible to register for these monthly cheques—usually children who lack the residence requirements or who are over 16—are $400 a year. Family allowances are not taxable.

Dimitrov Funeral Occasion Of Great Mourning By Reds

MOSCOW (CP)—The body of Prime Minister Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria was borne in solemn procession through the thronging streets of Moscow Sunday on its way to Sofia.

The 67-year-old veteran Communist leader died Saturday in a Moscow sanatorium from diabetes and liver trouble. He had come to Russia in April for treatment.

Dimitrov's death called forth the greatest outpourings of official Soviet tribute since the funeral of Andrei Zhdanov nearly a year ago. Zhdanov was considered one of the two or three most powerful figures in Russia.

Prime Minister Stalin and leaders of the Russian Government and Communist party stood by the bier Saturday night as part of an honor guard.

The Bulgarian cabinet ordered country-wide mourning. Thousands of black flags draped portraits of the lifelong revolutionary who had headed its Communist government since 1946. Black-bordered newspapers devoted nearly all their space to the obituary.

Dimitrov, a close friend of Stalin, had been called the most influential Communist outside Russia. Much of his life had been spent in exile. When the Soviet Army consolidated its occupation of Bulgaria in March, 1945, he returned after an absence of 22 years. He became Premier Nov. 23, 1946. Last April he was given a leave to undergo treatment in Russia.

Wounded Youth, Girl He Saved, Married

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A wounded boy and the girl he saved from a bandit's attack are man and wife today.

Alwyn (Sonny) Ivers, 19, his face swathed in bandages, was married to little Betty Bowen in a solemn bedside ceremony at the General Hospital here.

The rites were conducted less than 40 hours after Sonny had fought and killed a masked bandit's lane bandit who threatened his girl.

Sonny was shot by the hold-up man, later identified as William E. Brock, 18, as he and Betty were parked on a hill Friday night. Betty told sheriff's officers Brock took Sonny's wallet at gunpoint and then said "he'd do what he wanted with me." She said Sonny leaped at the hold-up man and, though shot in the scuffle, grappled with Brock. Betty said she got Brock's gun when it dropped and handed it to Sonny, who shot the youth four times.

Lawrence Herbert, Suite 28, 300 Vancouver Street, was remanded to Monday to set a day for trial on a careless driving charge when he appeared in city police court today. Charge arose from an accident his car was involved in with one driven by Charles A. Scott, 923 Burdett Avenue, June 27. The court was told Scott also is to be summoned on the same charge.

bushy eyebrows and a heavy black moustache, was exiled from Bulgaria for 22 years because of his early Communist activities. He remained an obscure figure until 1933, when the Hitler clique in Germany accused him of engineering the Reichstag fire conspiracy.

Industry Nationalization British Political Issue

By H. L. JONES

LONDON (CP)—Political battlelines in Britain are being drawn around the fundamental issue of nationalization of industry, a basic principle of the Labor government but alien to its Conservative opponents.

Since its election in 1945, the Labor administration has acquired and is operating half a dozen industries and has plans afoot for further state projects. It has declared its intention to stand or fall on its nationalization record and future program.

CALLED DESTRUCTIVE

The Conservative Party, under Winston Churchill, has chosen nationalization as its major point of attack on Socialist policies. Churchill has declared state ownership "destroys the vitality of the industry concerned." If continued, he claims, it could "prove fatal to the survival of the British people."

Conservative spokesmen say the coal industry and transportation would remain nationalized with modifications under any future Tory administration. But they are pledged to fight nationalization of the iron and steel industry, proposed in a bill now before parliament. The measure may be passed but could not be implemented before the next general election which must be held within the next 12 months.

The Tories contend it is not the function of the state to own industry.

The Socialists say that it is, within limits. They picture an industrial pattern for Britain where major basic industries closely connected with national economy would be state-operated but others would remain in private hands. But they have warned operators of private enterprise they are trustees responsible to the nation and in that sense "all business is the nation's business."

CRITICIZE LOSSES

Opponents of nationalization criticize state-owned enterprises on their losses and general operation.

Government spokesmen claim, however, that most nationalized industry was left in such a state by private enterprise that great initial outlays had to be made to put things right. In addition wage increases and other concessions have been made to organized labor, particularly in the coal fields, and operating costs are generally higher.

Thus the issue of nationalization is being put squarely to the British voter in the coming election.

Motorcar Hits Pole; Man Loses Life

CHILLIWACK (CP)—One man lost his life and two other persons are in the Chilliwack Hospital, one in serious condition, following a traffic accident near this Fraser Valley city Sunday night.

Dead is 25-year-old Frank Barnes of Chilliwack.

Patrick Heaton, 26, of Vancouver is in critical condition and Ernest Yarty, 17, of the Chilliwack army camp, is reported in satisfactory condition.

Provincial Police at Chilliwack report an automobile, allegedly driven by Heaton, ran off the highway near Glenale, about two miles southwest of Chilliwack, and struck a telephone pole.

Apparently Barnes, riding in the front seat, was killed almost instantly. Heaton suffered multiple injuries.

Yarty and another youth about 17 years old had "hitched" a ride with Heaton and Barnes and were in the rear seat. Exact nature of Yarty's injuries are not yet known.

Yarty's companion escaped without serious injury.

Freed Of Tolls

SEATTLE (AP)—A steady stream of motorists crossed over one of the world's engineering marvels today without caring whether they had a quarter in their pockets.

The Lake Washington floating bridge, the world's largest such structure, was freed of tolls Saturday. The toll lifting came nine years to the minute after the bridge was opened to the public—and 18 years before it had been scheduled.

Governor Langlie snipped a ribbon to signify the "open road" ceremony. Simultaneous with his action, giant firecrackers boomed, 300 pounds of rose petals and sweet peas were dropped from an airplane, and motorists—backed up for a mile on each side of the bridge—sounded their horns.

R. A. W. Bompas, Saanichton, reported to city police today that his car was in collision with a sign post at Finlayson and Quadra Streets early Sunday morning. The post was snapped off and about $90 damage was done to the car, the driver told police.

Fire At Aberdeen Takes Lives Of Seven Persons

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP)—Crackling flames brought a fiery death to seven persons and injured six others early Sunday in a combination masonry-frame residential hotel.

The fire broke out shortly before 3 a.m. in the lobby of the Lafayette Hotel. Its cause still is unknown.

Eighteen of the approximately three dozen guests escaped on ladders run up to the windows. Others leaped to the roof of an adjoining building.

Those who died in the flames were identified by Coroner E. B. Riley as:

Mrs. Mary Kearns, 74; Mrs. Eliza Beshers, Mrs. Mary Abshire, Hugh Rogers, a paralytic; Paul Myhr, the hotel proprietor, and a couple tentatively identified as Mr. and Mrs. Earl Christofferson.

Two policemen, patrolmen Don Shea and Pete Popovac, made the first rescue. Hearing the alarm in their patrol car, they sped to the hotel and started rescue work with a ladder that was four feet short of the bedroom windows. Three or four elderly women who had taken refuge on window ledges were removed. One, Mrs. Mary Roberts, 80, jumped several feet into Shea's arms, nearly knocking both to the street. She suffered head burns.

City Engineer Resigns In Protest

PENICHTON (CP)—W. E. Warburton, city engineer of Penicton, has resigned because of what he termed "constant interference" on the part of the mayor and city council.

Mr. Warburton said Mayor Robert Lyon, in his own words, "appears to have a set plan of interference. This is the system he used on my predecessor."

IT WAS A CONTRACT

SOME POLITICIANS AND A FEW SELF-

appointed pundits are still talking and writing about the future of the Coalition administration in British Columbia. It is being argued, for example, that because the provincial Liberal Party under the able leadership of Premier Byron I. Johnson elected a few more of that persuasion than the provincial Progressive Conservatives under the leadership of Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, the old party-line system ought to be revived.

This contention should be scotched at the outset; but it is altogether likely that the results of the federal general election—after they have been duly digested by the pundits—will suggest new reasons in some quarters for a bill of political divorce in this province. To any such, in view of the event, we reply with what we have said in these columns many times—that there is not one jot or tittle of difference between a provincial Liberal and a provincial Progressive Conservative.

Regardless of the flavor of our traditional argument in respect of the Coalition—which has given British Columbia the best government it has ever had—moreover, we pin our faith to the wisdom and judgment of Premier Johnson. He and Mr. Anscomb asked the people last June 15 for new instructions—instructions as to whether they desired a continuation of the type of administration which had been operative since the winter of 1941, or whether they had changed their minds and would prefer a regime on James Bay presided over by the Winches and the Garverages. The answer was about as conclusive as it could have been.

In view of the foregoing, therefore, our advice to the people of this province—what happened in the matter of party-choice on June 15 and June 27 notwithstanding—is that they frown upon all the "go-it-alone" suggestions that are emanating from the self-appointed pundits and that political element which still has visions of getting back to the flesh-pots. Mr. Johnson has specifically stated that he has no intention of going back on the implicit undertaking he gave when he and his partner went to the people as a Coalition in the cause of stable government. That should be sufficient even for a type of political society which, on occasion, seems willing to ignore basic contractual arrangements with the electorate if the cause of temporary expediency might bid fair to be served.

It is not necessary to recall that this newspaper has supported the Coalition since the adoption of the "Hart Formula" in 1941. It advocated the fusion—after it realized that a stalemate—particularly if the electors were to be asked to go to the polls again in that crucial period of the Second World War—might result in a revival of the old, pointless wrangles on the floor of the Legislature. And what took place when the electors went to the polls in October, 1945, and again on June 15 of this year, needs no special emphasis at this juncture. In sum, of course, these decisions meant, if they meant anything at all, that the people of British Columbia were determined to take no action which, conceivably, might overthrow the present system and enthrone one of a totalitarian character.

Thus, with this danger potential in mind, this newspaper will continue to advocate and support with all the emphasis at its command the preservation of the Coalition—so long as the re-elected administration does not use its somewhat top-heavy majority in the Legislature in such fashion as may be inimical to the interests of the majority of the people of this province. Of that we have little or no fear.

WORKING AMONG THE WORKERS

IT HAS BEEN NOTICEABLE THAT FEW, if any, of the strikes that have beset British industry since the end of the war, particularly in coal mining, railways and cargo handling, have been instituted with the approval of the trade unions whose members are affected. The great majority of walkouts, as a matter of fact, have been called in the face of urgent pleas by union leaders that the men return to work. The "no Sundays away from home" strike of railwaymen was a case in point. The current work stoppage by dockers is another.

In these events, the policies and actions of union leadership have been much more enlightened than those of the rank and file. The labor executives have realized the seriousness of Britain's economic position and the consequent necessity of doing everything possible to speed production, foster exports and expand the stringent diet of Britons. The workers themselves have too often shown a disregard for the national welfare—their own included—in a concentration on lesser personal problems which promise some immediate gain. There may be a certain amount of sympathy for a railway engineer who does not want to spend a night away from home each weekend. But it could establish an embarrassing precedent for soldiers, sailors and airmen who at some future critical time might insist on an equally sincere attachment to the family hearth.

A clue to the disturbances may have been furnished by the request of a Labor member of Parliament last Saturday for aid from military intelligence experts in tracking down Communists "who are egging on London's dock strikers." The member, himself the son of a dock worker, and hence free of any suspicion of lack of sympathy with their economic plight, was convinced, on the basis of an investigation carried out by himself and three other Commons members, that subversive forces are at work. These he summarized as "an organized attempt to disrupt the country's economy and trade union loyalty of the London workers... exploited by the Communist elements." In these critical "cold war" days Labor will be well advised to examine carefully the arguments and the backgrounds of all who seek to sway them—a sentiment to which the voiceless slaves of Siberia would, if they could, whisper a heartfelt Amen.

IN TIME OF PEACE...

THERE WAS A STRONG SENSE OF wartime reality in the press dispatches which described the progress of large-scale air defence manoeuvres in Britain. A startling recollection of reports which only five years ago filled the news columns could be found in such phrases as "four-engined Lincoln bombers, preceded by Mosquito fighter-bombers, smashed their way through night fighters to pinpoint the main target"; or, "London and the industrial centre of Coventry also were attacked." But if these accounts contained a disturbing similarity to wartime reporting, the housewives of British communities participating in the war games were even closer to reality. They have complained that low-flying planes frighten their children who still have stark memories of the blitz. One jet fighter engaged in manoeuvres crashed into a house, killed the pilot and injured two children.

Such secondary effects of the exercises are, of course, unfortunate. But the answer of officials, that "realistic training at all altitudes" is required to create an adequate air defence, is one that is difficult to reject. British authorities are well aware of the position. Their island occupies on the map of global warfare, and they know that only the formation and maintenance of a first-class air defence can provide any guarantee of survival in a future armed conflict. The anti-aircraft fire heard on the Victoria waterfront as this is written is a similar acknowledgment of practical realities, albeit on a less intensive scale. Such preparations are a double protection, in that the better they are the less probability there is of their having to be called into use. It is a sorry commentary on the state of the post-war world, but it is a true one.

INVITATION ACCEPTED

THE ACCEPTANCE BY PRIME MINISTER JAWAHARLAL NEHRU of India of an invitation to visit Canada next October has provided the occasion for a pleasant official contact between the two Commonwealth members which should do much to strengthen our traditional friendship. The new member of the group that recognizes the King as the symbol of Commonwealth unity holds a slightly different status from that enjoyed by this Dominion. As a result of the last meeting of Commonwealth Prime Ministers in London, India enters the international association as a republic rather than a dominion; but while the sense of political allegiance to the Crown is lacking, the spirit of co-operation and the feeling of membership in a "family of nations" are very noticeably present.

It is this spirit and this feeling that will provide the background for Mr. Nehru's visit, and there need be no doubt of the cordiality of his reception. He is a man whose personal achievement in the still continuing great days of India's political, social and economic reconstruction is one to command world-wide respect. The people of Canada will await his visit with pleasure and satisfaction.

TELLING B.C.'S STORY

CITIZENS OF THIS PROVINCE WHO have seen previous films prepared by the British Columbia Government Travel Bureau's motion picture division will learn with interest that a new production, "Highway Sixteen," had been released. The workmanship of the earlier reels, which brought a visual impression of our country to nearly 300,000 last year alone, may be taken as an index of the high standard that has doubtless been maintained in the most recent addition to this form of publicity.

Very few British Columbians enjoy the opportunity of seeing more than a small part of the province. Vacation limitations restrict the areas that may be visited. But through the medium of the motion picture division's presentation, hundreds in Victoria and elsewhere west of the Rockies have been given a splendid sample of the scenic beauties to be found within the province. The impressions they have made on domestic audiences may be taken as an index of their value in attracting the interest of potential visitors or settlers beyond our borders.

From another point of view, the department is documenting highly valuable information on geographic and economic material in an entertaining and informative manner.

Matter Of Fact

By STEWART ALSOP
From Batavia, Dutch East Indies

BIRTH OF A NATION

A NEW STATE is now almost certain to be born here, perhaps before the year ends. The United States of Indonesia will have seventy million people, and the richest resources of any nation in the world, save the United States and the Soviet Union. The birth of this nation will rank in importance with the freeing of India and the Communist victory in China. What will the new state be like?

In trying to answer that question, the first place to look is at the men who will hold power. By and large, these are men of stature. President Soekarno (who has no first name, to the discomfiture of American journalists) is a magnetic orator. Some observers believe that, like most orators, he is somewhat dazzled by his own genius. But he is an authentic leader, and a useful symbol of unity. Vice-president and Premier Mohammed Hatta is less colorful, but he is probably more capable.

AMONG THE LESS well known figures there are good men, like the Sultan of Jogjakarta, who will play an important role in the new regime, and Mohammed Rum, a shrewd diplomat who is now negotiating successfully with the Dutch. Soekarno's most likely rival for first place is the former President, Sutan Sjahrir, a brilliant man with delicate hands and cautious eyes, who has recently been remaining carefully in the background. Sjahrir is a socialist, and he will provide the leadership for what the new state will certainly need—a left-wing, non-Communist opposition.

All the Indonesian leaders have one thing in common; they all call themselves "Doctors" to signalize their academic achievements. They are all intellectuals, in the European sense of the word. They are men of intelligence and character. Yet they are in some ways hardly more equipped for the task which confronts them than the intellectual editors of, say, "The New Republic" are equipped to run the United States.

FOR THESE INTELLECTUAL Indonesians will be faced with some downright appalling problems. There are plenty of lawyers, professors and doctors here, but there exist just eight Indonesian engineers. The Dutch have kept the government service pretty well in their own hands, and there is hardly more than a handful of Indonesians with business experience. Commerce is the virtual monopoly of the large Chinese minority. And of Indonesia's seventy million people, 92 per cent are illiterate.

Under such circumstances, it is sentimental claptrap to imagine that a model democracy will flower here as soon as the Dutch flag is hauled down. One knowledgeable observer was probably nearer the truth when he remarked, "For a while, anyway, it will be a pretty complete shambles."

MOREOVER, THIS shambles will be subjected to determined attack, as was foreshadowed last autumn when the local Communists tried to take over on direct Kremlin orders. The Indonesian Communist agent, Musso, who came from Moscow to take charge, Alimin, his chief lieutenant, and Sjarifoedden, a Republican renegade, were the key figures in this attempt. All three have been shot by the Republicans. But Communism is hydra-headed, and Indonesia is the richest prize in Southeast Asia. There is no doubt at all that sooner or later Moscow will try again.

IN VIEW OF ALL THIS, why is the United States now firmly supporting the Nationalist movement here? For one thing, there is no practical alternative. But there is another, and better reason. In a sovereign United States of Indonesia the Communists will be deprived of their two most deadly weapons in Asia, nationalism and land hunger. Indonesia will be free, and (for this the Dutch can take credit) there is very little absentee landlordism in these islands.

There are further grounds for hoping that American policy will pay off. The Indonesian leaders are intelligent enough to see their own weaknesses. They are expected to ask the capable Dutch technicians and civil servants to stay on. With the Dutch technicians and Indonesian leaders working together, it should be possible to prevent administrative breakdown, see that these islands' vast resources are wisely exploited, and go forward confidently with the task of building the new nation.

FIRST, OF COURSE, there will be a period of intense disorganization. But this country can have a stable government and a stable economy on one condition. The United States, which has played so large a part in this new nation's birth, must continue to give Indonesia aid and support. And this must be done as part of a new, broadly planned American policy in Asia, which will need to rely on a prosperous, anti-Communist, free Indonesia as a major barrier to the Kremlin's Asiatic designs. QUOTING

A villain is always waiting in the wings as history unfolds upon the stage of the world.—Acting U.S. Army Secretary Gordon Gray.

Atomic energy is more than a weapon of destruction. It is a great new weapon in the war on disease, a tool that already appears as epochal as the invention of the microscope.—David E. Lilienthal, chairman, Atomic Energy Commission.

A Peculiar Bird Is The Pelican—U.S. View

It Depends On Good Faith

By BRUCE BLOSSAT from New York

THE FOUR-POWER accord reached at Paris resembles the first shaky steps of the hospital patient arising from a long siege in bed. No one can be sure whether he'll soon be walking more steadily or whether he'll flop back into bed in a state of collapse.

FIRM STRIDE

In other words, it is impossible to put down at this time the real value of the agreements. They hinge on the good faith of the Russians. They can mean a firm stride toward peace, or nothing.

The western diplomats and their peoples can be forgiven for viewing the results with tongue in cheek until they see how the Soviet Union performs. The memory of broken agreements is still vivid.

The most promising feature of the accord is that relating to the proposed Austrian peace treaty. If such a treaty could be signed, it would mean removal of Russian troops not only from Austria but from Hungary and Roumania, where they are supposedly guarding lines to Austria.

In the present tentative advance, we plainly owe much to Russia's feud with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. A major barrier to agreement was removed when the Soviet Union withdrew its support of Tito's territorial claims against Austria.

Russia also showed a somewhat more co-operative spirit in the knotty matter of German assets in Austria. The Kremlin yielded its former sweeping demands in this field and agreed to accept $150,000,000 from Austria in settlement of its claims.

Beyond this, however, the western powers stipulated that the final settlement would give Russia all the assets of the Danube Shipping Company in Austria, Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria; and substantial extraction and prospecting rights in oil fields in eastern Austria.

STILL OPEN

The assets problem, furthermore, is still left open. And last-minute Russian maneuvering at Paris raises the question of whether Moscow may not yet find a way to fasten a stranglehold on Austria's economy.

The deputy foreign ministers and regular diplomatic channels will try to settle remaining provisions of the Austrian treaty by Sept. 1. Meantime, we can perhaps gauge Russian sincerity by watching the Soviets' behavior in Germany.

The Paris agreement frankly conceded the four powers' inability to get anywhere on German unity and a peace treaty. But all pledged themselves to go on trying for those goals.

As interim steps, they reaffirmed the New York agreement on lifting of the Berlin blockade, agreed to work further for restoration of normal traffic and communications, to return at least in part to four-power control of Germany, and to seek expansion of trade and other economic relations between the eastern and western zones.

Western officials aren't putting much stock in these features. The general reaction is that in Germany we are about where we were before the Paris conference began. But they are willing to be shown.

REMAIN VIGILANT

Possibly the chief gain in all this is none of the specific proposals but simply the evidence that Russia appears to desire a lessening of cold war tensions—at least for the moment.

Without knowing for sure why Russia wants this breathing spell, we can welcome it. So long as we do not relax our vigilance against a quick Soviet turnabout toward new cold war aggressions.

Not Even A Bad Court Scene

An editorial from the Saturday Evening Post

THE refusal of London's Bow Street magistrate's court to surrender Gerhard Eisler for extradition to the United States has provided some tough discipline for Americans. From our point of view, Eisler, who was found guilty of perjury, had lammed out of the country, causing us great humiliation and embarrassment. So we put the arm on the British authorities to take Eisler off the Polish ship Batory when she docked at Southampton, although the legal justification for such a seizure was, to say the least, dubious. Some of us assumed that no nation which was in the pocket of another nation for at least $10,000,000,000 would have the nerve to deny a simple request like the extradition of Eisler. We forgot that, to the English, law is mother's milk.

Actually, aside from being well rid of Eisler, we ought to be grateful to Sir Lawrence Dunne, the Bow Street chief magistrate, for extricating us from a series of embarrassments which would certainly have arisen to plague us in the future. For example, the law on the sovereignty of ships in foreign ports, in the absence of specific treaty provisions, is that the master of the ship is in charge unless some circumstance arises which imperils the peace or security of the port. We gave that doctrine short shrift when we asked the British to remove Eisler from the Batory by force, although in the past we have insisted that the law of a foreign port should not apply to American ships in more or less similar circumstances.

This issue, however, was not raised before the English magistrate, who based his action on the assertion that perjury, as defined in British law, had not been proved or even charged against Eisler. In England, perjury implies false statements in the course of judicial action, and application for a passport would not be described as judicial action in the British view. The net of it was that Eisler left Bow Street a free man, making finger noses at Uncle Sam, a gesture to which American officialdom, responded by going off half-cocked in six directions at once.

The hegra was a bitter pill for Americans, but we are by no means sure that it ought to be. After all, the worst thing that could happen to the United States in this cold war would be a surrender of the traditional right of free America to harbor political refugees or a weakening of our stand against extradition of persons charged with political offences abroad. It is not necessary to admit that Eisler was a political refugee to understand that he would have been so represented all over the world had he been dragged back to the United States against his will. It is a subject upon which we should lean over backwards. Once it had been made easier to take refugees off neutral ships, in violation of at least some traditional international law, our efforts to prevent similar acts by totalitarian countries and their agents would be far more difficult. Eisler is probably well rid of; the tradition of political asylum we must protect, even when it seems to have doubtful application.

MORE LIKE HIM

Just by the way, win, lose or draw, we are rather drawn to Sir Lawrence Dunne. It is a pity that there is so little understanding over here of the nature of British magistrates that even United States senators talked as if they suspected Sir Lawrence either of being a left-winger or being intimidated by Communist pickets. Actually Sir Lawrence is a case-hardened Tory judge who made his decision without being influenced by the fact that the prisoner was a Communist or that England owes America a lot of dough and expects to get more, out simply by what he took to be the requirements of English law in the circumstances. With more judges and politicians like Sir Lawrence around, the world would be a lot better off.

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THE question of how far the democracies should go in establishing trade with the Russian bloc is a subject of anxious discussion on both sides of the Atlantic.

It becomes doubly important when considered in connection with such statements as that by Miklos Nyaradi, former Hungarian Finance Minister, who states in an article in the Saturday Evening Post that Russia and her satellites have a military time-table which calls for readiness for war by 1951.

Simultaneously from the other side of the world comes word that the Chinese Communist chief, Mao Tze-tung, has told his followers that there is no "third road" between Communism and Capitalism, but that nevertheless they must for the present co-operate with Capitalism so that China can achieve maximum production.

Should the democracies fall to and trade with Communist China, thereby building up its war potential? Should they proceed similarly in Europe, where the Communist bloc is calling mainly for materials which could be used in war?

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR

In considering that question one is reminded most uncomfortably that some United States businesses fed scrap iron and oil to Japan almost to the moment of her attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, thereby vastly increasing the Jap striking-power. Germany likewise grew strong on trade with her prospective victims as she prepared for the First World War.

ALL AGREED

Fortunately the western Allies are agreed that they shall not supply the Communist bloc with outright war materials. There is, however, considerable argument as to what constitutes war materials.

Britain, struggling in the midst of a fierce economic crisis and wanting trade, has seemed much less inclined to restrict the list than is the United States. All the western countries are agreed, of course, it is essential that trade among the western European countries be stimulated in order to hasten rehabilitation. That will be a deterrent to the spread of Communism.

BEST HOPE

London (Ont.) Free Press

We are no nearer a satisfactory agreement on the German nation than we were in 1945, despite conferences, discussions and secret and open meetings. The United Nations may yet present us with our only opportunity to solve this continuing problem. This will be its supreme test. By its achievement in this undertaking it will be judged.

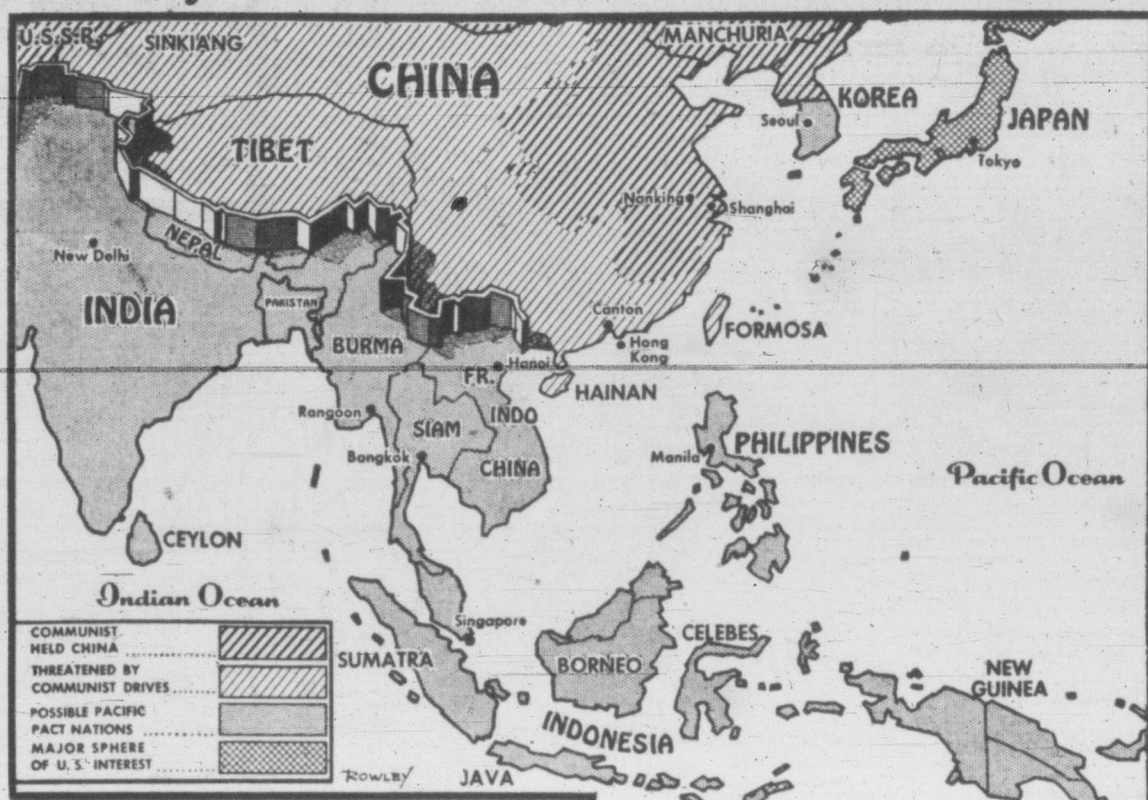

But the United Nations has been more successful than any grouping of nations in history, and it has done more to secure peace and prevent war than any other association of nations. Men of goodwill will give it their support in all possible ways for it our best hope in these dark and uncertain days.

STRAWBERRY TIME

The Times of London

The best methods of eating strawberries are not unworthy of consideration. The strawberry mess and strawberries and cream probably enjoy the first place in popular esteem; they have the richest, the most succulent sound—when there is cream to be got. It is unquestionably pleasant, if back-breaking, to cull strawberries from their native bed and devour them there and then, but the gross thought will intrude itself that sugar is needed to bring out the full poignancy of their flavor, and the raider can scarcely arm himself with a cactor. There is the nibbling method, which is very far from despicable—namely, to bite off the end, the strawberry's delicate little nose, and then to plunge the remaining body into the sugar. To make two bites at a cherry is proverbially a mistake, but a strawberry of really noble dimensions allows scope for several.

Is 'Pacific Pact' Answer To Reds In China?

Russia Courts Chinese When Balked In Europe

By JAMES D. WHITE

Ever since the Atlantic Pact was announced, there has been vague but persistent talk of a Pacific Pact.

This talk has increased as China has fallen more and more into Communist hands.

Such a pact would be erected to stop Communism in Asia, just as the Atlantic Pact was designed to stop its spread in Europe.

Who wants such a pact? Who would belong to it? When would it be formed?

Answers to those questions are hedged about with all the uncertainties of Asia and the western Pacific. In this area lives the more under-developed, over-populated, restless half of the human race. Its people are not sure where they are headed but are determined to win freedom and change.

In this determination to win freedom and change, Asia's largest nation, China, has turned to Communism. The Red Star that has risen in the most populous nation on earth casts a new light on the world map. Because of it, world powers are readjusting their policies. A Pacific Pact might be part of that readjustment.

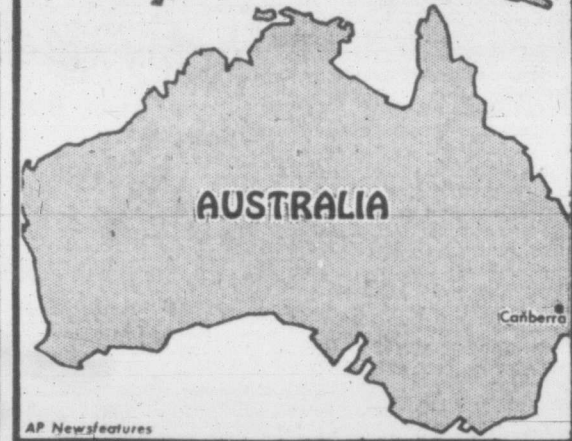

Russia reportedly has assigned former foreign minister Molotov to see that Red China stays friendly to Red Russia. Russia cannot afford a Tito in China, because China is such a big, populous country and her people have even less in common with Russia than little Yugoslavia.

TURN TO CHINA

There is much precedent in Russian history, moreover, for turning to Asia when stymied in Europe. When the Czars were denied access to the Mediterranean nearly 100 years ago, they turned to China and won important concessions in Manchuria. Russia lost some of these to the Japanese in 1905, and the rest in World War I. But her Soviet planners won part of them back in Manchuria before selling out to Japan in the 1930s.

They won them all back in the Yalta agreement of 1945 and the Sino-Soviet treaty of the same year.

Since then Russia, like America, has been preoccupied in a struggle over Europe. She has been blocked in Europe by concepts like the Marshall Plan, the Atlantic Pact, and the Berlin airlift. Meanwhile, the Russian end of Europe suffered from the lack of east-west trade, and insubordination appeared among the Soviet satellites, in Yugoslavia's Tito.

TRIUMPH FOR RUSSIA

At this point Soviet Communism has been handed perhaps its biggest triumph since 1917. Without assistance on any great scale, China has gone Communist. If history repeats itself now, Russia will turn to China again, and Molotov may be the man to superintend the operation.

He would be turning from a Europe whose western part is organized against Soviet expansion through the Atlantic Pact. There is no such mutual defence agreement in the western Pacific, but the nations there began talking about one the minute the Atlantic Pact was announced.

Australians, Indians, Filipinos, Koreans—all wanted to know why America seemed willing to help shut the front door against communism but left the back door—Asia—wide open.

ANSWER EMERGES

Gradually, the American answer has begun to emerge. America is not yet ready to form a Pacific pact, Secretary of State Acheson said recently. Why not? The most specific answer he gave us was to quote India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, who had just pointed out that a lot of internal questions in Asia must be settled before a Pacific pact will work.

For instance, who would join such a pact for Indonesia—the Dutch or the Indonesians? Who would answer for Indo-China—the French or the Viet-Nam nationalists they have been fighting for three years? Those are just two of the unsettled questions in Asia. They are fairly typical, however, because the big thing about Asia today is the nationalism of its people, and the big reason they are so nationalistic is that they are determined above everything else to throw off anything that resembles colonial control or exploitation.

This concerns the U.S. too. After helping colonial governments go back to these areas after World War II, the U.S. has seen the subsequent unrest expose them to Communist infiltration.

TECHNICAL AID

American policy seems to show, recently, a tendency to change—to encourage the efforts of colonial and semi-colonial peoples to achieve the independence and better life they all want. Through President Truman's "bold new program," announced last January, the way is opened to give them technical aid to improve their standards—and be less likely to fall for communism.

This program, however, probably falls far short of the "Marshall Plan for Asia," which a good many Asiatics would like to see.

Meanwhile China has spurred ahead, and will soon be completely Communist-controlled. U.S. aid to an avowedly anti-Communist Chinese government did not work. Indeed, it may have speeded Red victory in China because through Nanking corruption and backwardness, U.S. arms were sold or surrendered to the Reds, who naturally used them.

Long before a Pacific Pact can be organized to stop the spread of Communism throughout Asia from its new Chinese base, the world will have to deal with the reality of this new Red colossus in Asia.

The Reds want to trade—on their own terms—in order to build up China, and the merchants of the world are ready to try to do business with them, regardless of the policies of their respective governments.

Already a race seems to be starting up among the nations to recognize Red China when the Communists set up a government—probably next fall. One fear is that Russia will speed up the race by recognizing Red China at the earliest possible moment.

TOO MUCH FOR RUSSIA

If Russia woos Red China and wins, the answer from the non-Communist world may be a Pacific Pact. Whether it would work without a gigantic "Marshall Plan" is one of the questions that remain unanswered.

The U.S. tactic seems to be to go slow. There is hope in many quarters that China needs so much help that Russia cannot supply it and she can be kept out of the Soviet orbit. If she enters that orbit, then a Pacific Pact may come nearer to reality.

Prime candidates for membership in such an alliance would be the United States, Britain, France, India, Pakistan, Australia, New Zealand, and nations like Thailand, Burma, the Philippines, and Southern Korea.

Japan presumably would have to wait until a peace treaty returns her to the status of a sovereign nation.

English Nobleman Buys Swallowfield

Swallowfield, a Vancouver Island estate between Duncan and Chemainus has been purchased by Rt. Hon. Lord Brocket, an enthusiastic and practical English agriculturist. Completing details of the purchase is Lord Brocket's eldest son, Hon. Ronald Nall-Cahill. Breeding of purebred cattle and thoroughbred Percherons is the primary concern of the Brocket estates in England.

Two Island Men Win Scout Honors

Two Vancouver Island men were included in the Dominion Day list of Scout honors announced by Governor-General Viscount Alexander, Chief Scout for Canada.

They are George William Sherman of 3254 Alder Street, Victoria, presently at Ucluelet, and H. A. Chandler of Courtenay. Both are to receive the Scout Medal of Honor.

Mr. Sherman has been associated with the Boy Scout movement for 33 years. He became a Scout in China in 1916.

He was made assistant scoutmaster of the Tillamook Troop in Victoria in 1934 and was subsequently made Scoutmaster of the North Quadra Troop which was in the process of breaking up. Within a year, he had the troop rebuilt and playing an active part in district scouting.

From 1940 to 1945 he was, on leave of absence while serving overseas with the armed forces. On his return he again took charge of the North Quadra Troop. Transferred in his employment to Ucluelet, he is now Scoutmaster of the troop there.

Mr. Chandler, district commissioner of the Upper Island District Boy Scout Association, has been connected with scouting for 12 years. He has been commissioner for three years. Previous to that he was scoutmaster for the Courtenay Troop for seven years.

White Queen For Tribe In Bechuanaland Stirs Debate

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The fuss over whether the Bamangwato tribe in Bechuanaland will have a white queen is growing and growing.

The British government, which governs the Bechuanaland protectorate, must give the final decision and doesn't relish the job. The Union of South Africa, immediately south of Bechuanaland and with a mixed population more colored than white, is steamed up over whether Seretse Khama, chief-designate of the Bamangwatos, will reign with his white bride, London typist Ruth Williams.

Tshekedi Khama, Seretse's uncle and tribal regent for 20 years, who talked last, about going into voluntary exile if the white queen ascends the throne, got back his fighting spirit and summoned a lawyer, Douglas Buchanan, from Capetown for legal advice.

At a recent four-day palaver, Tshekedi and 40 minor chiefs turned thumbs down on a white consort for their chief. But Seretse, who has been studying law himself at Oxford and London, rallied 6,000 representatives of his 100,000 tribesmen and was upheld by a voice vote that shook the surrounding hills.

After the arrival of Buchanan, Tshekedi's followers expressed belief Seretse had gained only a snap decision by the tribal representatives' vote and it might be reversed.

SOUTH AFRICAN VIEWS

Britain's task is being made more difficult by the attitude in South Africa. While that Dominion government has no control over Bechuanaland, and has made no official comment on Seretse and his bride, newspapers supporting the governing Nationalist Party, which advocates segregation, have made their attitude clear. One leading Nationalist paper said:

"The Union government cannot stand idly by in the face of developments of this kind, and the decision of the British government will be awaited with exceptional interest."

While elsewhere in Canada, the highway death toll for 1949 was increased, no major accidents involving injuries occurred throughout Victoria and district during the long holiday week-end, police reported today.

Traffic officers of all departments reported the motoring public drove in a careful manner. They reported some accidents in which damage was not extensive.

Air Hit-And-Run Case In Alabama

WADLEY, Alta. (AP)—A light plane swooped from the sky Saturday and killed a man driving a mule-drawn wagon on a highway here. Police described the case as an "air-hit and run."

Four U.S. Air Force men from Shaw Field near Sumter, S.C., were arrested when they landed their plane at the Alexander City airport, 25 miles from Wadley, police reported.

A wing of the plane struck Hall, throwing him to the ground. He died in a hospital. Four other men with him were not injured.

The plane landed on the highway, turned around and took off. Police said Corp. Robert E. Pennick, 22, the pilot, was charged with first degree manslaughter. The others in the plane were held as material witnesses.

Western Navy Games Designed To Prove Power, Says Admiral

ABOARD H.M.S. IMPLACABLE OFF PENZANCE, Cornwall, England (Reuter).—Admiral Sir Rhoderick McGrigor, Commander-in-Chief of the Home Fleet and over-all commander of Western Union Fleet, told a press conference at the weekend that Western Union Defence Pact and the present Western Union naval exercises are designed "to show the world we are willing and able to work together in case of aggression."

Admiral McGrigor called the press conference aboard H.M.S. Implacable, the flagship of the Western Union fleet.

British, French and Netherlands warships assembled off the Cornish coast Friday and are taking part in the first joint Western Union naval exercises, which will last until July 7.

"We are not here to make war but to make peace," Admiral McGrigor said.

Attlee Says Reds In Britain Try To Sabotage Recovery

MANCHESTER, Eng. (AP).—Prime Minister Attlee said Sunday Communists are trying to disrupt Britain's recovery.

He warned British Socialists and trade union members that Communists "are merely the instruments of an alien dictatorship."

The Prime Minister spoke in crowded King's Hall. An overflow crowd listened over loudspeakers outside. The listeners, inside and outside the hall, were estimated at 12,000.

Attlee struck out against unofficial strikes.

"The only people to gain from them are those people who would like to see our great social democratic experiment fail," he said.

"They care nothing for this country. They do not mind how the people suffer."

"Spiritually they do not belong here," Attlee said. "Their hearts are elsewhere."

"Unfortunately that country which the Communists support is, from the point of view of real freedom and democracy and of true socialism, one of the most backward countries in the world."

DOCKERS IDLE

Most critical of Britain's present unofficial strikes is a walk-out of about 8,000 dock workers, tying up about 80 ships, some carrying food, in London. The strike grew out of the dock workers' refusal to handle cargo from Canadian ships now in dispute with crew members who belong to the Canadian Seamen's Union.

R. J. Mellish, Labor member of Parliament, charged Saturday Communists were egging on the dock strikers. He asked for military counterespionage units to look into the situation.

"I am certain that if the men and women who built up our movement were to be told the true facts about Russia today, they would say 'this is not Socialist society,'" Attlee said. "There is no freedom. It is a classic example of a police state just as Russia under the Czars was a police state."

"There are class divisions, glaring divisions. There is no freedom of speech, of conscience or of the person. It is collectivist but certainly not Socialist."

"The Communists are fond of accusing the Labor Party of imperialism. Let us look at this for a moment."

Attlee said Britain believed "in the right of countries to govern themselves." He said Burma had been permitted to withdraw from the Commonwealth, India, Pakistan and Ceylon had set up their own government, he added.

POLAND AND HUNGARY
"Now look at the other side. In Poland and Hungary, Communists who dare to take the line of their nations are ruthlessly thrust out. Only those who put Russia first and are completely subservient to the clique in Moscow are allowed to govern in their own countries."

"Marshal Tito for daring to consider the needs of his own country is attacked, vilified and boycotted."

"The economies of all these vassal states must be organized not for the benefit of their own people but to serve the turn of the U.S.S.R."

"You cannot have a more classic example of imperialism," Attlee said "we have no quarrel with the Russians," and "recognize their right to the kind of government they like. But we shall oppose resolutely any attempt to drag our people down to their level."

Halfway through his speech, three hecklers were escorted from the hall. Later another was ejected.

Attlee was escorted from the hall by a strong police guard.

Attending the meeting here were typographers, stereotypers, electrotypers, pressmen, mailers, bookbinders and newsmen from the principal cities of British Columbia, Washington and Oregon.

During business sessions of the conference held in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden, problems relating to the various printing crafts and the industry as a whole were discussed.

The meeting concluded with a banquet and program of entertainment in the evening.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by a committee of the Victoria Allied Printing Trades Council headed by James McCague. The next meeting of the conference will be held in Portland sometime in April. Exact date will be decided later.

Only Minor Fires

European Work A Feature Of Hand Weavers' Exhibition

Many fine exhibits from all parts of Canada, Europe and United States will be featured at an exhibition of hand weaving sponsored by the Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild in the Duke of Kent and Princess Louise Rooms at the Empress Hotel this Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges will officially open the affair, Thursday at 2:30. Exhibits have been received from all provinces, including Newfoundland, and also from California. There will be work from Saint John's, Newfoundland; Glace Bay, N.S.; Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, and Oakland, Calif.

Exhibits of special interest include a rug of soft blue grey woven by peasant girls on the estate of the former Princess Volkonsky of Russia and bearing the daisy design of the noted Russian painter, Vasnezoff; old coverlets from Eastern Township of Quebec; Lithuanian articles from a group of New Canadians with Mrs. Anastasia Tamasaitiene, now of Montreal, as their leader.

Mrs. Tamasaitiene is an outstanding authority on folk art in Europe where her weaving won international recognition before the war, when she was head of the folk art department of University of Lithuania.

The wall hanging from this group represents different provinces of Lithuania with characteristic buildings and peasant costumes, and with a river winding throughout the whole. The national flower of Lithuania appears in nearly all designs.

Originally from Ontario are old bedspreads and blankets handwoven in their own homes by a United Empire Loyalist group for home use.

Hand weavers of Oakland have sent a splendid exhibit of table mats and drapes, each in different technique, in modern manner.

Canadian Girls Cycle In Europe

LIVERPOOL, England (CP)—Four Edmonton girls stepped ashore here on July 1 from the liner Ascania to start a bicycle tour of Britain.

They are Donna Cross, 22, laboratory technician; Dawn Eckert, 21, student; Jean Campbell, 24, secretary, and Mary Brock Smith, 20, art student.

They plan to travel 1,200 miles in Britain, riding from one youth hostel to another. Later they plan to visit France and Italy.

Their normal cycling togs are blue jeans and striped shirts, but while they're in London for a few weeks they're going to wear more fancy dress. Some tidy frocks are in their heavy baggage that's going ahead by train.

More About Femininity

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Girls should be taught more about "the satisfactions of femininity, marriage and motherhood," a prominent psychiatrist said today.

Dr. Lewis L. Robbins of Topeka, Kas., addressing the annual meeting of the American Home Economics Association, deplored modern emphasis on material values, success and "glamour."

Greater stress on courses in home economics, child-bearing, sex hygiene and marriage will help combat "the social instability of the family," he said. The combined efforts of the industrial revolution, two world wars and the depression of the 1930's had forced women to think of home and career separately, "often with the result that they find themselves in the dilemma of choice between the two."

Today's Recipe

REFRIGERATOR BREAD PUDDING

Two tablespoons gelatine, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold water, 4 slices white bread ($\frac{1}{2}$ -in. thick), $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups milk, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup crushed fresh fruit, 2 egg whites.

Dorothy Dix

COUPLES WHO WED AT 30
MAKE FEWER MISTAKES

Dear Miss Dix: I have been going with a man for two years and we have become engaged. Will you please tell us what chances of happiness a couple of 35 have if they get married?

An Engaged Couple.

Answer: Well, I should say that if there is one period in life more auspicious than any other in which to enter into matrimony it is between 28 and 35. From my many years of observation I have come to the conclusion that the chief reason that marriage is so often a failure is because boys and girls get married before they are ready for it.

Marriage is bound to be a gamble, no matter at what age we marry, but youth takes a greater risk in it because they have no idea of what kind of life partners they want. Their tastes are not formed, and they do not even know what they will develop into themselves.

Boys and girls are not ready for matrimony because they have not had their playtime. They do not want to settle down and assume the responsibilities of marriage. Nor is the average young couple ready financially to marry. Very few boys make enough money to support a family, and there is mighty little love strong enough to stand the strain of shabbiness and sordid living and anxiety about where the money is coming from to pay the rent and the grocer.

HABITS FORMED

All of these pitfalls the two avoid who marry around the 30s. Their tastes and habits are formed. They know what qualities they desire in the one with whom they are to spend the balance of their lives, and their knowledge of the world and people makes them capable of judging the character and disposition of the man or woman they select as a mate. Then, by the time a man is 30 or 35 he has got on his feet and is able to provide for his home. Also, by the time a man and woman are 30 they have had their fling and are ready to settle down and be fireside companions.

Above all, the mature man and woman have had enough experience of life to be able to make the adjustments of matrimony better than any boy and girl can. They have learned self-control, acquired tact and patience. We talk about the adaptability of youth. Nonsense. It takes age to teach us how to give and take.

For these and many other reasons I think that around the 30s is the ideal age for marriage.

Dear Miss Dix: Would you take a chance on marrying a man who tells you frankly that his mother will always be first with him and that no girl can ever take her place in his affections? Although I love him dearly, I would rather give him up now than marry him and play second fiddle to his mother.

Answer: I think any other man in the world makes a better husband than the one with a mother fixation. I think there is more chance of a wife winning out against any other rival than a mother.

There are men who remain mother's little darlings as long as they live. They run to mother for advice and sympathy. They go to her with all of their troubles. They always think that their wives should let mother run their houses and rear their children, no matter how incompetent she may be or how behind the times. They are forever throwing mother in their wives' teeth and there is nothing that gets more on a woman's nerves than to have to be forever listening to what "mother says."

So I think you would be very sensible if you would let your young man stay married to his mother, while you look about for some real man without a mother complex who will be willing to be all-in-all to you as you are to him.

We Have Applied For NEW TELEPHONE RATES

HIGHER REVENUES REQUIRED TO MEET INCREASED COSTS

Rising costs over a period of years have finally compelled us to seek a general increase in our telephone exchange rates. Application for the increase has been filed with the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada.

Long distance rates are not affected by the application.

Unlike the prices of most commodities and services, telephone rates have not risen since the war—as a matter of fact, we have not had a general increase in our rates since 1921.

In order to meet the demand for telephone service and to improve the existing service, we are planning to place orders totalling over $40,000,000 in the four years from 1949 to 1952. It is therefore obvious that in the next few years the Company must attract millions of dollars of new capital. To do this it must pay a fair return on the money invested.

THE GROUPING PLAN

Under the proposed rate structure, the exchanges would be placed in groups according to the number of telephones served by each exchange. There would be a schedule of rates for each group. The rates would follow the widely recognized principle that larger exchanges should pay higher rates than smaller ones because (A) unlike the pattern of most businesses, the unit cost of telephones tends to increase as more telephones are added; and (B) the more telephones there are in a community the greater the value of the telephone to the individual subscriber.

To fit the exchanges into the new grouping plan will require considerable adjustment of existing rates. Some will have to be increased more than others, while some will actually be reduced. It can therefore be seen that if a modern grouping plan is to replace the present one, which is now outgrown and no longer equitable, no uniform increase—on a percentage basis, for example—would serve the purpose.

OTHER PROPOSALS IN THE RATE APPLICATION

Among other proposals contained in the Company's application to the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada are the following:

The $1.00 charge on overdue accounts would be abolished.

The surcharge on Monophones and desk telephones would be eliminated. At present there is a surcharge of 25 cents for a wall Monophone or a standard desk telephone and a surcharge of 40 cents for a desk or a hang-up Monophone. Under the new schedule, there would be a single rate for each class of service in a group, regardless of the type of instrument.

The charges for inter-exchange calls in the Greater Vancouver and Greater Victoria areas would be increased from four cents to five cents for each five-minute period.

Changes would be made in the rates covering private branch exchanges and miscellaneous equipment such as keys, auxiliary signals, etc.

Changes would be made in the mileage charges on telephone lines extending more than certain specified distances from telephone central offices.

In the case of measured service, the present rate of three cents for each outgoing call above the initial 100 would be raised to four cents.

HERE IS A TABLE OF PROPOSED NEW RATES:

Three Stars In Outdoor Drama

Barry Sullivan, Marjorie Reynolds and Broderick Crawford are the co-stars in King Bros. Allied Artists drama, "Bad Men of Tombstone," which opened at the Plaza Theatre today. Against the background of the early west, the picture depicts the struggle of the law against a daring outlaw gang.

Fortunio Bonanova, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, John Kellogg, Mary Newton, Dennis Hoy, Morris Ankrum and Robert Barrat are among the large supporting cast.

RIO THEATRE
When "T-Men," power-packed drama based on actual Treasury Department records, now being shown at the Rio Theatre, the public, for the first time, will obtain an intimate glimpse into the working of the "least" publicized of all government agencies—the Treasury Department.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Gary Cooper and Madeleine Carroll are co-starred in Cecil B. DeMille's "North West Mounted Police," currently at the Capitol Theatre in a return engagement requested by popular demand.

FOUR ACES TAKE ONLY ONE TRICK!

I found myself sitting across the table from Wendell Holmes. We were playing auction bridge. Holmes claims there are still more people playing auction bridge than contract.

Holmes, who is heard on many different radio shows every week, got his start doing 30 shows a week for $20 a week. For a long time I have listened to his "Scattergood Baines" show, and Holmes is everything you would expect Scattergood Baines to be. Holmes is also Dr. Watson in the Monday night Sherlock Holmes series.

I told Holmes about this famous auction bridge hand, which was played in the Masonic Temple in Cleveland, O., 23 years ago. I know, because I was the goat.

Whenever we held all the aces, the bidding was opened with two no trump. I won the opening lead of the king of clubs with the ace. I could have cashed the other three aces, but I finessed the ten of diamonds.

On the tenth club I was down to three aces and I had to make a discard. I discarded the ace of diamonds. West led a diamond. East won it with the king and I had to make another discard. I guessed wrong and my four aces took the grand total of one trick.

ROYAL THEATRE
Clark Gable, following his recent success in "Homecoming," now plays the role of Brig. Gen. Casey Dennis in "Command Decision" by M-G-M which is now being shown at the Royal Theatre. Also starred in the explosive drama are Walter Pidgeon, Van Johnson, Brian Donlevy, Charles Bickford, John Hodiak and Edward Arnold.

DOMINION THEATRE
"Force of Evil," which is now at the Dominion Theatre, reveals for the first time on the screen the workings of the numbers racket, an evil which affects the daily lives of millions of Americans. Filmed with a strong cast headed by John Garfield, it comes as a worthy successor to that actor's first independent venture, "Body and Soul."

Your Baby And Mine

SACRIFICE FEELINGS TO PROVIDE COMPANIONSHIP FOR CHILD

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Children learn to be courteous by seeing the treatment their parents give relatives, neighbors and friends and from the way they themselves are treated.

The gracious hostess who wants to make her guests happy will influence her children to act the same in similar situations. This behavior will be bolstered by the praise a child gets when he shows good manners or acts unselfishly.

A Reader, and I. J. both have exactly the same problem and I hope the answer to the first will be accepted by the second. A Reader writes, "I am having the usual difficulty with the varying viewpoints and the behavior of neighbors. I have a son 3½ years old and we live in a nice neighborhood and try to get along with our neighbors. We have always taught our boy to share his toys. One day when he and two children were wrangling over the use of his tricycle I went over to a neighbor and asked if she would let her little girl bring hers over to play."

"She looked at me as if I were a bag of poison and told me to send the child home. She never came back."

"Are we supposed to furnish toys for the neighborhood? They expect their children to play with my boy's, but they send their children in the house."

If I stop to chat and they never ask him over to play with them. In fact, they make it plain they want no children in their yard, but they send their children to spend hours with us. When they leave they say, "No one is allowed in our yard."

Of course, this is neither polite, neighborly nor hospitable. But, sometimes, for the child's sake you have to compromise with your idea of what is right and proper in order to provide him with the companionship he needs so badly.

You could, if you wished, act the same as they do. But where would you be? Your child would have no place to play, no friends with whom to play. Toys are inanimate and cannot take the place of live children. If, to have them, you have to sacrifice some of the toys, then it is a good exchange and all to the benefit of your child. He will grow up generous and unselfish, the others will have had no practice in either. All any mother can do is to rear her own children right and let the neighbors take care of their own problems.

Children's Dentist

Talks Shop During

Visit To Victoria

Dr. Rex R. Waggoner, prominent Hollywood dentist, is holidaying in Victoria, but found time to talk a little shop during the week-end.

He warned of the dangers of eating too much candy, cake, cookies, white bread, pudding and pies—in fact too much of anything containing refined carbohydrates which generate acids which eat through the enamel and permit bacteria to begin decaying teeth.

An interesting device in the comparatively new field is that of molding infants' faulty dental arches during the first few hours of their lives—when the cartilage of the gums is still soft and pliant and can be molded by the dentist's fingers. The problem, Dr. Waggoner says, is to get parents to call a dentist to the maternity ward.

The Hollywood dentist, who advises brushing of teeth within 20 minutes of eating before acids can harm them, gave as his dental rules: Keep sugar and starch consumption down; convince the child the dentist is a friend, not a bogeyman; eliminate thumb-sucking; it may lead to buck teeth; and ensure early and regular dental care and supervision.

Beulah Bondi, popular veteran character actress appearing in Universal International's "The Life of Riley," starring William Bendix, at the Odeon Theatre, believes she has a recipe for perennial contentment.

When she wearies of Hollywood and the movie grind, Beulah goes to Honolulu, where a little theatre group keeps a "Welcome" sign on its marquee for her the year 'round, and takes part in some plays.

'Bold Look' In British Trade May Replace 'Bookkeeping Look'

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The "bold look" may become the thing on the international economic front in the next weeks and months.

It may replace the "bookkeeping look" which has been the fashion, but which is beginning to become wilted.

London's independent weekly, the Economist, expresses it this way:

"A resurgent, creative, risk-taking Britain would arouse new responses and create new possibilities of international co-operation."

This thought, however, might carry little conviction if there were not signs that other countries too, and especially the United States, are thinking along the same lines.

In this view, if Britain, for instance, is buying more from the United States and Canada, than she can pay for, then she must buy less—until she can afford more.

It would have been difficult for Britain, while receiving virtual gifts from the United States to tie her over, to say anything else.

But the bookkeeping method shows signs of being self-defeating. For one thing it tends to shut off Europe from many things which she needs from North America for better and cheaper production. It tends to make European countries pay higher prices in currencies that they have than lower prices in a currency (dollars) which they haven't.

This is not necessarily to say that anyone has been trying the wrong thing. Certain things have to be done before others can be tried. They provide the basis for fresh decisions, and the time for fresh decisions seems to have arrived.

It is doubtful that Britain could make or carry them out alone. She has been under criticism for not trying bold ventures, especially in undeveloped parts of the empire.

ERP OPERATIONS WATCHED

Now, however, United States doubt about present operation of ERP is discernible. Americans obviously are voting those billions as a matter of necessity in the world situation, and anything which may seem to be a further concession may not be well received.

But, neither do Americans like to see the billions spent without accomplishing their purpose, which is the restoration of Europe, and through it the restoration of world trade.

Incidentally, L. S. Amery, British statesman, recently returned to London from a visit to Canada, expresses his belief that Canada has reached the point in her development where she can take a leading part in the development of the whole British Commonwealth. He added:

"In doing this she can also contribute more than any other country to getting rid of the present unbalance in world economy."

Big Paul Bunyan Goes To Town

To Resume Showings Of Films In Park

The summer program of weekly film showings to be held at Beacon Hill Park will commence next Thursday evening.

Outdoor film showings were introduced for the first time at the park last summer and enjoyed wide popularity, with the result that the Greater Victoria Film Council, in co-operation with the Victoria Parks Board, the National Film Board and the Victoria Public Library, have decided to continue this unique form of entertainment again this year.

Films will be supplied by the National Film Board and the Victoria Public Library and will include a great variety of subjects from cartoons to travelogues, many of which will be in color.

Showings will begin at 8.30 each Thursday evening, weather permitting, at the shell in Beacon Hill Park.

LIBRARY HOURS

Throughout the summer months the Victoria Public Library will close at noon on Wednesdays, reopening from 9 in the morning until 9 at night, Sept. 14.

Oak Bay Wins Intercity Cricket

H. G. Green of the Oak Bay cricket eleven is seen at the wicket during Saturday's league fixture against Seattle at Windsor Park. Wicketkeeper is E. C. Abnett. Seattle fielders, from left to right: Lloyd Hughes and Y. R. Nayudu. Oak Bay took the match 94 to 39.

Cooper, Carter Win Honors At Gun Club

Willard Cooper and Garnie Carter, both of New Westminster, were in featured roles in the closing two days of the B.C. clay pigeon championship tournament at the Victoria Gun Club.

The trophy donated by Ted McFeeley, symbol of the Vancouver Island skeet championship, was won by W. Cooper, one of several brothers who have established fine records as scattergun shots in competition.

Cooper scored 97x100 to win the island 100-bird skeet title Saturday.

The special E. D. Todd Trophy for the shooter registering the best score in the first 50 birds of the B.C. 100 bird skeet event was won by Carter in a shoot-off. He tied with Victoria's Henry Pottinger and Vancouver's Jack Robertson with 94x100 and came out best in a 25-bird extra contest. Carter was runner-up to Jack Roach, Victoria, crowned 100-bird B.C. trap champion Friday.

In the B and C class shots of the 100 skeet event, Victorians Bill Johnston and Wallace H. McMillan were triumphant.

J. Robertson, Vancouver, was a class winner with a 94x100. F. Cooper of New Westminster, runner-up, Johnson was top man

Five C's Register Close Cricket Win Over Seattle

Five C's, leaders of the Victoria and District Cricket Association League, handed Seattle its second straight loss in the three-game holiday stand Sunday by defeating the visitors, 124 to 89.

However, the match came close to being a draw with Tom McKeachie stumping Seattle's last man with only five minutes to play.

In matches Saturday Ex-R.A.F. defeated Cowichan 73 to 70; Oak Bay won from Seattle 94 to 39; and University Incopts put on 152 for six wickets after getting Albions out for 56.

Batting first, Five C's ran up their 124 total featured by George Payne's 65 not out. Jack Meadley was second best bat for the winners with 15.

After Munshi and Nayudu, Seattle's opening batsmen, had run up three runs before Nayudu was bowled by Pugh. Amir Jahrazbhoy and Munshi increased the output to 45. Jahrazbhoy was bowled by Harper after scoring 31. Abnett took over where Jahrazbhoy left off and ran up 21 not out.

Charlie Pugh took four wickets for 10 runs for the churchmen. Today Seattle is scheduled to play University Incopts at University School.

WENMAN SCORES CENTURY Highlight of Saturday's matches was Reg Wenman's 103 for Incopts. The veteran stayed at the wickets for two hours in putting on his century. Wenman also topped the bowlers with three wickets for only 11 runs.

Woodruff with 23 and Jagger with 16 were high bats for the Ex-R.A.F. against Cowichan. Dunlop with 16, McCleery with 15 were the only members of the upstart eleven to hit double figures. Day was top bowler for the former flyers with five wickets.

Oak Bay had little trouble turning back the Seattle squad. Lash carried his bat for 22 runs to lead the Bays, followed by Vyvyan with 16 and Scott with 14.

HORSESHOE PITCHING The Horseshoe Pitchers' Association will hold a meeting at 1050 Pandora, Thursday evening at 8, to plan the draw for the Worthwhile Cup competition.

Abel Investigates Spokane Ruckus; Calvey Suspended

SPOKANE (AP)—Robert Abel, president of the Western International League, arrived here Sunday to start a personal investigation of the big argument at Wenatchee last night that cost Spokane a game by forfeit.

Abel suspended Jack Calvey of Spokane indefinitely last night after receiving an umpire's report that one of the arbiters had been "manhandled" during the argument. Umpire Max Skulik forfeited the game to Wenatchee in the eighth inning with the score tied 8 to 8. Six Spokane players were thumbed from the game during the ruckus.

Abel said he would make no further suspensions or hand out any fines "pending a full investigation of the facts." He said he planned to talk to a "lot of people" in Wenatchee before he would have an announcement.

Buccola Leads A's To Another Twin Win

Vucurevich, Tobias In Winning Mound Roles; Blankenship Rejoins Club

Acting manager Vic Buccola continues to work wonders with the Athletics. It was Buccola's big bat plus some neat relief pitching by Pete Vucurevich and four-hit route-going performance by Tobey Tobias yesterday that enabled the A's to take two from the Tacoma Tigers, 8 to 5, in 15 innings and 8 to 2 in the seven-innings nightcap.

The double triumph and the A's third win in a row puts the team in a virtual tie with Tacoma for seventh place in the Western International Baseball League and only five games behind fourth-place Wenatchee.

Victoria blasted four runs across in the 15th inning, after two were out, to win the opener. Vucurevich, who relieved starter Larry Ward in the eighth when the latter was lifted for a pinch hitter, started the uprising with a triple. Charlie Balassi was purposely passed.

Buccola then pounded a double off the rightfield wall driving in two runs. Frank Matoh followed with another three-bagger and Gil McDougald with a single to account for the final two runs.

Vucurevich who hurled shut-out ball until the 15th gave up his only run on a pinch homer by Gordon Jones in the last half of the inning.

COSTLY ROOT Ward held a 2 to 1 lead going into the seventh inning but Russ Walseth booted a ground ball and the Tigers scored three unearned runs to take a 4 to 2 lead. The A's tied it up with two runs in the eighth.

In the nightcap, Tobias stopped the Tigers with only one hit for four innings, while his mates built up a 6 to 1 lead. The chunky righthander coasted in from there for his second victory of the season.

Business manager Reg Patterson of the A's announced Saturday night that Joe Blankenship, 25-game winner for the A's last year was due to rejoin the team in Bremerton today.

Blankenship has been with Beaumont of the Texas League this season.

Also scheduled to join the club today was Len Noren, an outfielder down from Binghampton of the Eastern League. Noren played last year for Ventura and spent the early part of this season with Newark.

Vancouver Capilano split their Sunday twin bill with Bremerton, winning the first, 8 to 2, but dropping the finale, 5 to 4, in 10 innings.

Spokane Indians took a pair from Wenatchee, 4 to 3 and 6 to 5, the first game going 10 innings with Joe Rossi smacking home the winning run.

Yakima Bears and Salem also divided their twin set, the Senators snatching the opener, 3 to 2, and the Bears the nightcap, 5 to 1.

Two player deals were reported. Seattle sent K. Charlton, signed this week off the University of Washington campus, to Vancouver, and Oakland manager Chuck Dressen announced that Ed Samcoff, former Bremerton infielder, had been returned to the Tars on option.

Tommy Stothard Wins Junior Fishing Derby

Twelve-year-old Tommy Stothard, 2251 Caddboro Bay Road, was not only the top man in the junior derby of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association Sunday at Saanich Inlet, but his achievement was one to make a lot of older fishermen envious.

The youngster, one of three sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Stothard, reeled in a silver-brown winning 32-pound spring salmon to take top honors in the annual fishfest for sons and daughters of members of the angling club. He quickly put in his claim for a silver button.

In addition to winning a rod, reel and line he took the V.S. I.A.A. junior championship cup.

Harold Parlyb, 15, of 175 Lurline Street, was number two on the prize ladder in the derby, open to junior members aged 10 to 17 years. He reeled in a 24-pounder to win his bronze button and the fishing tackle, second prize.

From there on the weights of catches by the 39 entries slipped down.

OTHER WINNERS Marilyn West, 13, of 1553 Third Street, Sidney, was third prize winner with a 11.4-pounder.

Archie McKinnon, athletic director of the Victoria Y.M.C.A., presented the prizes to the winners at the Anchorage boat-house.

Consolation winners were: First, a wrist watch, Bruce Hill, Walema Avenue, Cordova Bay; second, golden cocker spaniel puppy, B. A. Keir, 3670 Craig-miller; third, hunting knife and plug, Walter Dicks, 2545-Wark Street, and fourth, fishing scale and a plug, Miss A. Miller, 409 Oliver Street.

Bill McColl Selected On Cup Golf Team

VANCOUVER (CP)—Walt McElroy, Canada's top-ranked amateur golfer of 1948, but an inconsistent and infrequent contender in tournaments this year, will travel east for the July 23 inter-provincial Willingdon Cup matches at Saint John, N.B.

McElroy was named last night by the British Columbia Amateur Golf Association to the B.C. team along with Bill Mawhinney of Colichena, Bill McColl of Victoria, and Doug Bajus of Point Grey.

Traveling with the team as an alternative, in case McElroy's recent back strain does not allow him to compete, will be Hugh Morrison of Marine Drive.

The five-shotsmiths were picked after a 72-hole tryout.

McColl finished with an aggregate of 295, shooting a 71 at Capilano Sunday and a 79 at Point Grey. Morrison's total was 154-72-298; E. Painter, Victoria, 151-73-302; Lyle Hurschman, Glen Oaks, 154-74-302; Don Gowan of Victoria, 151-74-303; Jack Ellis, Vancouver Marine Drive, 154-72-298.

Doug Bajus, 149-77-304, got the final team spot by his play in earlier tournaments. Backline jitters yesterday sent his Capilano score to 77, and his Point Grey card showed a ruinous 78.

MICKEY OWEN SOLD TO CHICAGO CUBS CHICAGO (AP)—Catcher Arnold (Mickey) Owen, one of the "forgiven" jumpers to the Mexican League, Sunday was purchased by Chicago Cubs from Brooklyn Dodgers for the $10,000 waiver price.

Owen, now 32, was a highly rated defensive catcher before he fled the Dodgers for the Mexican League in 1948.

Bill Cantrell Wins Speedboat Classic DETROIT (AP)—Wild Bill Cantrell, who is equally at home in a racing car or a speedboat, drove his My Sweetie to victory in the 42nd annual Gold Cup speedboat race Saturday.

Cantrell won the second and third heats of the 90-mile race after finishing third in the opening 30-mile sprint.

Cantrell piled up 1,425 points in the speedboat classic to edge out R. Stanley Dollar Jr.'s Skip-A-Long which finished second in each of the three heats.

Eagles Take Pair In Minor Ball League

In Sunday's Minor Baseball Association senior section games, Eagles captured a pair from Poodle Dog Cafe, 10 to 4 and 7 to 5, while Fletcher's Men's Shop and Ace Woodworkers split their doubleheader.

Woodworkers copped the opener, 4 to 1, and the clothiers the bedtime encounter, 15 to 6.

Joost Gets Backing As Player-Of-Year

Philadelphia fans today were boosting Eddie Joost for the most valuable player award and Alex Kellner for rookie-of-the-year honors.

Joost, the 33-year-old shorstop, and Kellner, the 24-year-old hurler, have done more than any other Philadelphia player to keep the Athletics within striking distance of the American League-leading New York Yankees.

Joost and Kellner combined yesterday to lead the A's to an 8 to 3 victory over Boston and a sweep of the three-game series with the faltering Red Sox.

The victory, coupled with Washington's 2 to 1 triumph over New York, cut the Yankees' margin over the A's to 4½ games.

The bespectacled infielder, enjoying his greatest of 11 seasons in the majors, slammed his 18th home run of the year off loser Joe Dobson. The blow, with two on in the sixth inning, broke a 2 to 2 tie.

Kellner, who only last year pitched for Savannah of the Class A Sally League, twirled a six-hitter for his 12th victory. He now has won six in a row.

The defeat was Boston's sixth in a row and Dobson's eighth against five victories. Kellner has lost only three. The fifth-place Red Sox trail the fourth-place Detroit Tigers by 2½ games and are 10 games off the pace.

The Reynolds-Page combination received one of its rare setbacks as Washington Senators edged out the Yankees, 2 to 1, in 11 innings. With Page on the Satchel Paige saved the first game, halting a ninth-inning rally, and received credit for the second, pitching one hitless inning of relief. Manager Lou B

Woman Explains Why, Winning Reduced Penalty In Court

Because Joyce Jubb, 332 Menzies Street, told how she inadvertently sold groceries after 1 on June 22, contrary to the Half-Holiday Act, she won a reduced fine of $10 from Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

John D. Maloney, 1134 Hillside Avenue, said he had nothing to say on the charge laid on the same day. The result was he was fined $15.

Mrs. Jubb said she had had no intention of breaking the law. She said "we were dilly-dallying around in the store and I forgot it was Wednesday afternoon."

Gets Month In Jail

J. R. Porrit, Vancouver, was given a one-month jail sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

He pleaded guilty to three charges of fraudulently obtaining food and lodgings from three hotels, the Strathcona, Douglas and Kings. He was given one month on each count, sentences to run concurrently.

Scottish, R.C.E.M.E. Units At Wainwright

Fifty members of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) and 17 men of the 58th and 59th L.A.A. Workshops, R.C.M.E., are at Wainwright military camp in Alberta today starting 10 days of intensive training.

They form a part of the 1,100 Reserve Force officers and men attending the big consolidated camp under the personal supervision of Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, General Officer Commanding Western Command.

Lt.-Col. R. D. Travis, commander of the Scottish, said the regiment is represented at Wainwright by 11 officers and 40 other ranks. They are in the charge of Capt. Harold Gonder, M.C., and C.S.M. Smith.

1,200 Teachers Here For Summer Schools

Twelve hundred school teachers changed places with their pupils when they registered this morning for the five-week 36th session of the Provincial Summer School of Education at Victoria High School.

The teachers, armed with pencils, textbooks and enthusiasm hailed from towns, large and small throughout British Columbia. Approximately 100 teachers came from other provinces, some from as far east as Ontario, while a handful are up here from the United States.

It was a record registration, well beyond that of last year, according to Harold P. Johns, provincial director of educational and vocational guidance, who welcomed the teachers.

"We expected an increased enrollment and added to our total number of courses by 12, but the increase is even greater than we expected," Mr. Johns said.

"Some of the classes are overcrowded and we had to close them to further registration. Some courses cannot accommodate additional students."

"However it is a fine tribute to the teaching profession in B.C. that teachers come here in such large numbers."

Commenting on the large registration, Miss Catherine D. Cameron, registrar, said that some of the teachers from prairie points hope to teach next year in B.C., while others are just coming for special courses.

Still others are combining summer school with a holiday on the coast.

Hon. W. T. Straith, K.C., Minister of Education, addressed the teachers, in company with Deputy Minister F. T. Fairley and Harold L. Campbell, assistant superintendent of education and director of curriculum.

They were introduced by Mr. Johns as the "three men who direct education in B.C."

"This is my first year in education and I am particularly interested in those teachers who have just completed their first year of teaching after Provincial Normal School," Mr. Straith said.

"I know these will be a profitable five weeks and that you will gain further knowledge and further experience in teaching."

Mr. Straith referred to the department of education's two families, its 148,000 school children in the province and the teaching body. Rev. George Biddle said the opening prayer. Mr. Johns introduced the teaching faculty at summer school.

Delegations To Appear On Trade License Hike

Several delegations from organizations protesting increases in city trades licenses for the last six months of the year are expected to appear at Tuesday's City Council meeting.

A delegation from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.) will appear also on the question of increased rents at city-operated emergency housing quarters at former army camps.

Complaints are continuing to appear at the City Hall on the trades license question.

One of the main contestants in the fight to have the increases reviewed will be motion picture theatre operators.

Victoria dentists and lawyers as well plan on presenting arguments to the council of why their fees should not be upped from $25 for six months to $150.

Doctors have complained too, but it is not known if they will send representatives to address the aldermen.

Rooming-house proprietors are "hot under the collar" at the increase given them—from 25 cents per room to $1.50 per room—and they are expected to send a delegation.

On the higher rents at emergency shelters, the labor council is continuing a battle started several weeks ago which aldermen answered at their last meeting.

It was ruled that the increased rents should stand but the labor men say this is not good enough. They claim that tenants at Tyee Camp are living in deplorable conditions.

"We can see no justification for increasing rentals—in fact we submit there is every reason why they should be reduced or proper sanitary arrangements provided," wrote A. Percy Raymond, secretary-treasurer of the labor council.

New foam tower equipment at the Industrial Reserve property of Standard Oil has been approved by Fire Chief R. T. Brindle. Under the chief's supervision recently two engine crews were used to give the equipment a test to combat a possible storage tank fire. Standard Oil is the only oil company in Victoria with this type of foam equipment.

P.T.A. Asks Quick Action In Cleaning Polluted Beaches

Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council today asked the city to take quick action in correcting polluted condition of Ross Bay and Gonzales Bay bathing beaches, from Clover Point sewer outlet.

The council, representing 30 local associations with a membership of 4,207, said it would be difficult to keep children away from the two beaches this summer and a decision must be reached at once on how the water can be made safe for swimmers.

"Parents in this district have long been aware of this deplorable condition and have prayed that no epidemic would stem from this source," writes Mrs. W. Spedding, corresponding secretary of the council.

She said Victoria was blessed with a great deal of sea frontage, but there were few sandy beaches.

Monthly meeting of the Superannuated Federal Civil Servants of Canada will be held 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Fine Weather Draws Hundreds Of Americans To City For Holiday

As Victorians settled back to their daily routine following the July 1 holiday, hundreds of Americans thronged to the city during the week-end to spend their Independence Day, and a fine Victoria day made the holiday complete.

Steamers from Anacortes, Port Angeles and Seattle were all crowded to near capacity with tourists and automobiles.

Extra flights were run by Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Several sleek yachts flying the American flag anchored or tied up at the Inner Harbor.

Stores were crowded today as visitors took advantage of the long week-end to get in some shopping.

Anti-Aircraft Units Open Intensive Training Here

An intensive training period started here today for 20 officers and 122 other ranks who have come from all parts of Canada to attend the Reserve Army training camp at Esquimalt.

The officers and men form part of light reserve anti-aircraft units from as far east as Fort William, Ont. They will train here until July 9. They are the 65th from Vancouver; 66th from Nanaimo, Duncan and Port Alberni; 17th from Prince Albert; 67th from Fort William, and 68th from Calgary.

Meanwhile, members of the 58th and 59th R.C.E.M.E. and the Canadian Scottish commenced training today at Wainwright, Alta., where infantry armor tactics and realistic battles will be demonstrated. More than 1,100 men and officers are attending the Wainwright camp.

Training for heavy anti-aircraft regiments in Victoria will commence on July 10 to 17. The regiments will include the Fifth B.C.H.A.A. and the Eighth A.A.G.O.R. of Victoria, the 24th H.A.A. Trail, the 43rd H.A.A. Vancouver, and the 102nd Heavy Battery from Prince Rupert.

A Warning Ignored

Former Irish Champ Leading British Open

SANDWICH, Kent, England (AP)—Harry Bradshaw, former Irish Open titleholder, took the lead in the first qualifying round of the British Open Golf Championship today with a 67 at the Royal St. George's Course.

With part of the field still unreported, Bradshaw was two strokes ahead of his closest challengers. His score, including a birdie deuce on the 145-yard sixth hole, was five under unofficial par for the course.

Tied at 69 were Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz., Bobby Locke, the favorite from South Africa, and Ken Bousfield of Britain, all professionals.

Both Locke and Bulla played the Royal Cinque Ports course at Deal. Half of the field of 228 played there, with the remainder shooting the Royal St. George's course here, where the 72-hole tournament proper starts Wednesday.

The experts were predicting that Locke would carry off top honors and that the scores in general would be low.

Ken Bousfield, British pro, came in with a 34-35-69 at Royal St. George's to gain a tie with Locke and Bulla for the early lead.

The nearest man to the top trio in mid-afternoon was Bob Kenyon, little-known British professional, who fired a 70 at St. George's.

Victorian Second As Canadians Off Well At Bisley

BISLEY CAMP, Surrey, England (CP)—Two Canadians and three other competitors today finished in a five-way tie for first place in the Southern Railway event as the 80th annual Empire Shoot opened on Bisley's rifle ranges.

Sgt. William V. Hall of Ottawa and Officer Cadet Gilmour, Bo of Toronto each posted a 34, along with three other marksmen. The event calls for seven shots at a distance of 200 yards.

The five top scorers will shoot off among themselves later to determine the winner.

The Kinnaird, like the Southern Railway, a service rifle event, was won by Sgt. Instructor L. G. Marchant of London, England, with 35.

WO. Jacob A. Young of Victoria was second with 34; Sgt. Godfrey B. Kay of Hamilton, Ont., third with 34, and Lieut. James Boa fourth with 34. The Kinnaird calls for seven shots at 300 yards.

Thus Canada's 18-man team got away to a good start in the competition.

Aussies Drop Brown

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuter)—The Lawn Tennis Association of Australia announced today that Geoff Brown, a Wimbledon semifinalist, will not be asked to join the Australian Davis Cup team which meets Canada in the first round of the American Zone at Montreal, July 22.

Recount Gives Liberals One More Victory

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N.S. (CP)—The Liberal Party gained another seat in the Commons today as a recount in Annapolis-Kings riding gave victory to Liberal candidate A. A. Elderkin with a majority of seven votes over Progressive Conservative George Nowlan.

Final figures gave Mr. Elderkin 13,196 and Mr. Nowlan 13,189. Mr. Nowlan, member of the last Commons, was ahead in returns before the official declaration day count today.

On election night, he had a majority of 88 votes and the soldier vote cut this lead to two votes.

This makes the standing in the 262-member House: Liberals, 193; Progressive Conservatives, 41; C.C.F. 13; Social Credit, 10; Independents, 4; Independent-Liberal 1.

Has His Joke

ERROLL FLYNN

LONDON (CP)—Movie star Erroll Flynn, wearying of red tape, wrote "Sex" as his occupation when he filled out forms to visit Britain.

And, lest there be any misunderstanding, he wrote "Occupation" under the query "Sex."

Literary-minded immigration authorities held him for questioning briefly when he arrived from Paris. But he told them he was just fooling.

"They didn't seem to like it," Flynn said today.

Gain Full Point In May, Dominion Statistics Reveal

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's cost of living zoomed to an all-time record during the month of May, jumping a whole point to 160.5.

The Bureau of Statistics reported this afternoon that between May 2 and June 1 the cost-of-living index eclipsed the previous peak by nine-tenths of a point.

The previous high, based on 1935-39 equals 100, was 159.6—established last October and equaled in November, 1948, and January of this year.

The advance was entirely attributed to a rise in the food index of 3.4 points to 202.9. This resulted from a seasonal rise in meats combined with a number of other increases, most important of which were fresh vegetables and oranges.

Most Items Hold To Line

For just about every other department reckoned in the Dominion's cost-of-living gauge the indexes either declined or remained the same as in the previous month.

Home furnishings and services as well as fuel and light moved down the same amounts, 4 of a point to 167.7 and 128.7 respectively.

Clothing remained unchanged at 183.8 as did the group of miscellaneous items at 128.4. In both groups there were small scattered increases which were offset by other decreases in prices. The rent index remained unchanged at 122.4.

The general cost-of-living index represented an increase of 6.2 points over June 1 a year ago. Every department, including food, rent, fuel and light, clothing, home furnishings and services, and miscellaneous, was higher than at the same date a year ago.

Toronto Heat Wave

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto's simmering heat wave, with the temperature due to climb to an expected 96 degrees, resulted in two heat deaths today.

Frank Dennis, 61-year-old Works Department clerk, collapsed and died in his office from a heart ailment which physicians said was aggravated by the heat. William Sawyer, 71, died while sitting on his verandah and trying to keep cool.

Five Children Die As Ferry Breaks

BERLIN (AP)—Five children drowned and 35 were rescued when a ferry broke in two Sunday on Saale-Stau Lake in Thuringia. East German newspapers reported today.

It was the third and longest disappearance for Haabsburg in two years. He was missing 72 hours in January, 1948, and on May 12 of this year disappeared for two days.

He celebrates his 115th birthday Friday.

Weather Forecast

Few clouds today and Tuesday, clearing by noon; southwest winds 15 m.p.h. increasing to 25 m.p.h. Little change in temperature. Low tonight, 49; high Tuesday, 65.

FOUR STAR FINAL

Victoria Air Cadet One Of 50 Chosen For Exchange Trips

David M. Routley, 3396 Salisbury Way, is one of 50 air cadets who will represent Canada in this summer's exchange flights among the Dominion, the U.S. and Britain.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Routley, 19-year-old David will fly the Atlantic with 24 others for three weeks of sightseeing in the U.K. Their itinerary includes an extensive tour of Scotland and the London area. The other 23 will tour the U.S.

TO SELECT ONE MORE

The 50 air cadets were selected on a merit basis from all provinces except Newfoundland. A 51st is expected to be selected soon to represent Canada's newest province.

Scholarship records, athletics and character were considered in making the selections. Some, including the Victoria boy, were chosen by popular vote of their squadron mates and instructors.

Other B.C. cadets chosen were: John T. Rawlins, Deep Cove, who will also go to the U.K.; Donald F. Black, Kelowna; Calvin W. Huey, Princeton, and Rex E. Cameron, Vancouver, all of whom will visit the United States.
